Record crowds attend Taste

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Heat and humidity didn't keep the crowds from attending Antioch's Taste of Summer.

"We had record crowds," said Barbara Porch, executive director of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry. "With the relocation (to the William E. Brook Memorial Wetland and Entertainment Center) there was plenty of room, even though it was very full."

Porch said everything went so smoothly it was as though the new location had been custom built to accommodate the Taste. "It was roomy, and was so nice to have some greenery and not just concrete

Run proceeds benefit library

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Proceeds from the Run for Freedom 5K run/fun walk will be donated to the Antioch Public Library on July 26 at 10 a.m. at the library. The State Bank of The Lakes, the run's sponsor, will award the $5,000 to the library for books, videos and other materials promoting health and fitness.

"We are pleased and thrilled. That they thought of us is wonderful," said Kathy LaBuda, library director.

This is the eighth year that the bank is donating the proceeds from the run back to the community. The library was chosen this year as the donation coincides with its expansion.

"We are pleased that the library is expanding to provide more opportunities for the community," said Roger Manderscheid, executive vice president of the bank. "We are happy to provide this donation for them to work with."

On behalf of the library, LaBuda put together a tentative purchase proposal that includes a selection of magazine subscriptions, exercise videos, healthy eating cookbooks, reference books as well as books about sports, children's games, sports and fitness, nutrition and exercise. "The bank asked that we purchase materials that fit within sports and athletics because the money was raised from the race," LaBuda added.

Thought the library's expansion is moving slowly and is currently behind schedule, these new materials will be ready to help fill the expansion when it is complete.

"The first half of the expansion was supposed to be completed in February, and here it's almost August and it's not done," said LaBuda. "Problems with the parking lot have been slowing us down, but hopefully we're at the last of it."

Past recipients of the proceeds from the Run for Freedom include the Antioch Community High School's track and cross-country departments, SEDOL (Special Education District of Lake County) and the Village of Antioch for the construction of a running trail.

A bronze "Tree of Life" will be located in the library's new entrance to recognize donations it has received. Leaves will bloom on the tree and boulders found underneath the tree will acknowledge larger donations.

Forest Preserves, Neumann Homes hash out deal

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Complying with its portion of the non-binding agreement for settlement, the Lake County Forest Preserve District has entered into a contract with Neumann Homes to purchase about 180 acres of property for preservation. Judge John Goshgarian encouraged all of the parties involved in a tangle of litigation in Antioch's East-Sub Area to come together to settle all of the issues at hand without going to trial.

The written purpose of this agreement states that it will "ultimately result in the binding 'Global Settlement' which will settle all disputes between the parties in the Deercrest litigation (Village of Antioch, Lake County, Lake County Forest Preserve District, Deercrest) and the zoning litigation (Neumann Homes, Village of Antioch)."

The most sensitive areas of the 634 acres that Neumann Homes had proposed to become Clublands of Antioch will go to the Forest Preserve District. The property is to be sold at the developer's cost, better than $5 million.

"Initially, I was a no vote," said Al Westerman, president of the Forest Preserves District. "Tom Hahn (director of acquisitions) worked with Neumann Homes until about 7 p.m. on Thursday evening (the night before the vote was to take place) and increased the amount of property on the east side so to provide better buffers. He did it at the last minute."

An stand of trees borders Lake Pollack. The area is part of the land to be purchased by the forest preserve in a settlement with Neumann Homes.

The purchase of the property provides a link to the Raven Glen Forest Preserve and the Red Wing Slough. It contains oak savannas, Advanced Identification (ADID) wetlands, ponds and has frontage on Lake Pollack. The ADID wetlands, on the west side of the site, have a hydrological connection to Red Wing Slough on the north side of Route 173.

According to Westerman, there is a small corner of the Antioch Bog, part of the Illinois Natural Areas Inventory, on the west side of the property.

"We're hoping to be able to manage that bog someday," said

Westerman, who noted that the remainder of the bog is on five-six private properties. "We hope to be able to enter into a joint venture with property owners in the future so that we can do some restoration of the bog."

Westerman said the bog has seen some degradation in the past couple of years and that many of the Tamarack trees have died and been replaced by Silver Maples. He said, "It's a shame that there are only a few Tamarack trees left (there)."

He added that in the long run the Forest Preserve District would

Demolition makes way for renovation

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Demolition has begun at the PM&L Theatre located at 877 Main Street, Antioch that will wipe the slate clean for the planned renovation.

"The total renovation will cost about $1 million," said Tom Hausman, president of the theater group. "When it's all finished, there will be a new, larger lobby, a second floor lobby, a new concession area and bathrooms double the size of what they were."

Hausman said the work began by tearing up the balcony and upstairs office.

"Basically, the building is being gutted," he said. "The next step will be to take off the roof so a raised roof can be put on the building."

With the purchase of a small bit of property (Something Sweet), PM&L will put an extension on the Golf outing date picked

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"All of the money we raise at our golf outing goes directly back to the students," said Kathy Wilson, president of the District 34 (Community Consolidated District 34) Educational Foundation of its sixth annual golf outing.

The outing will be held at the Antioch Golf Course located on Route 59 on Aug. 14. Registration is currently underway, and $70 covers the cost of 18 holes of golf, one-half cart, lunch and dinner complete with prizes. The dinner buffet is available for $25.

Wilson said that in the past the foundation has raised $10,000-13,000 during this event. In the past, money has been used for computers, as mini-grants for creative teachers who have come up with new programs, to furnish early childhood classrooms and to sponsor students for the Odyssey of the Mind competition.

"We continually work on updating computers," said Wilson. "Our libraries are kind of short after the reorganization with the new building, so books are a priority."

Registration will take place at 11:30 a.m., and a lunch of hamburgers, bratwurst, potato salad, fruit and cookies and brownies will be served at that time. Shotgun start is at 1 p.m. and the format is two-man scramble.

Dinner will be served after a hospitality cash bar at 6 p.m. Following that is a cash raffle with $500 for first prize, $250 for second and $100 for third. Smaller items will be used as door prizes.

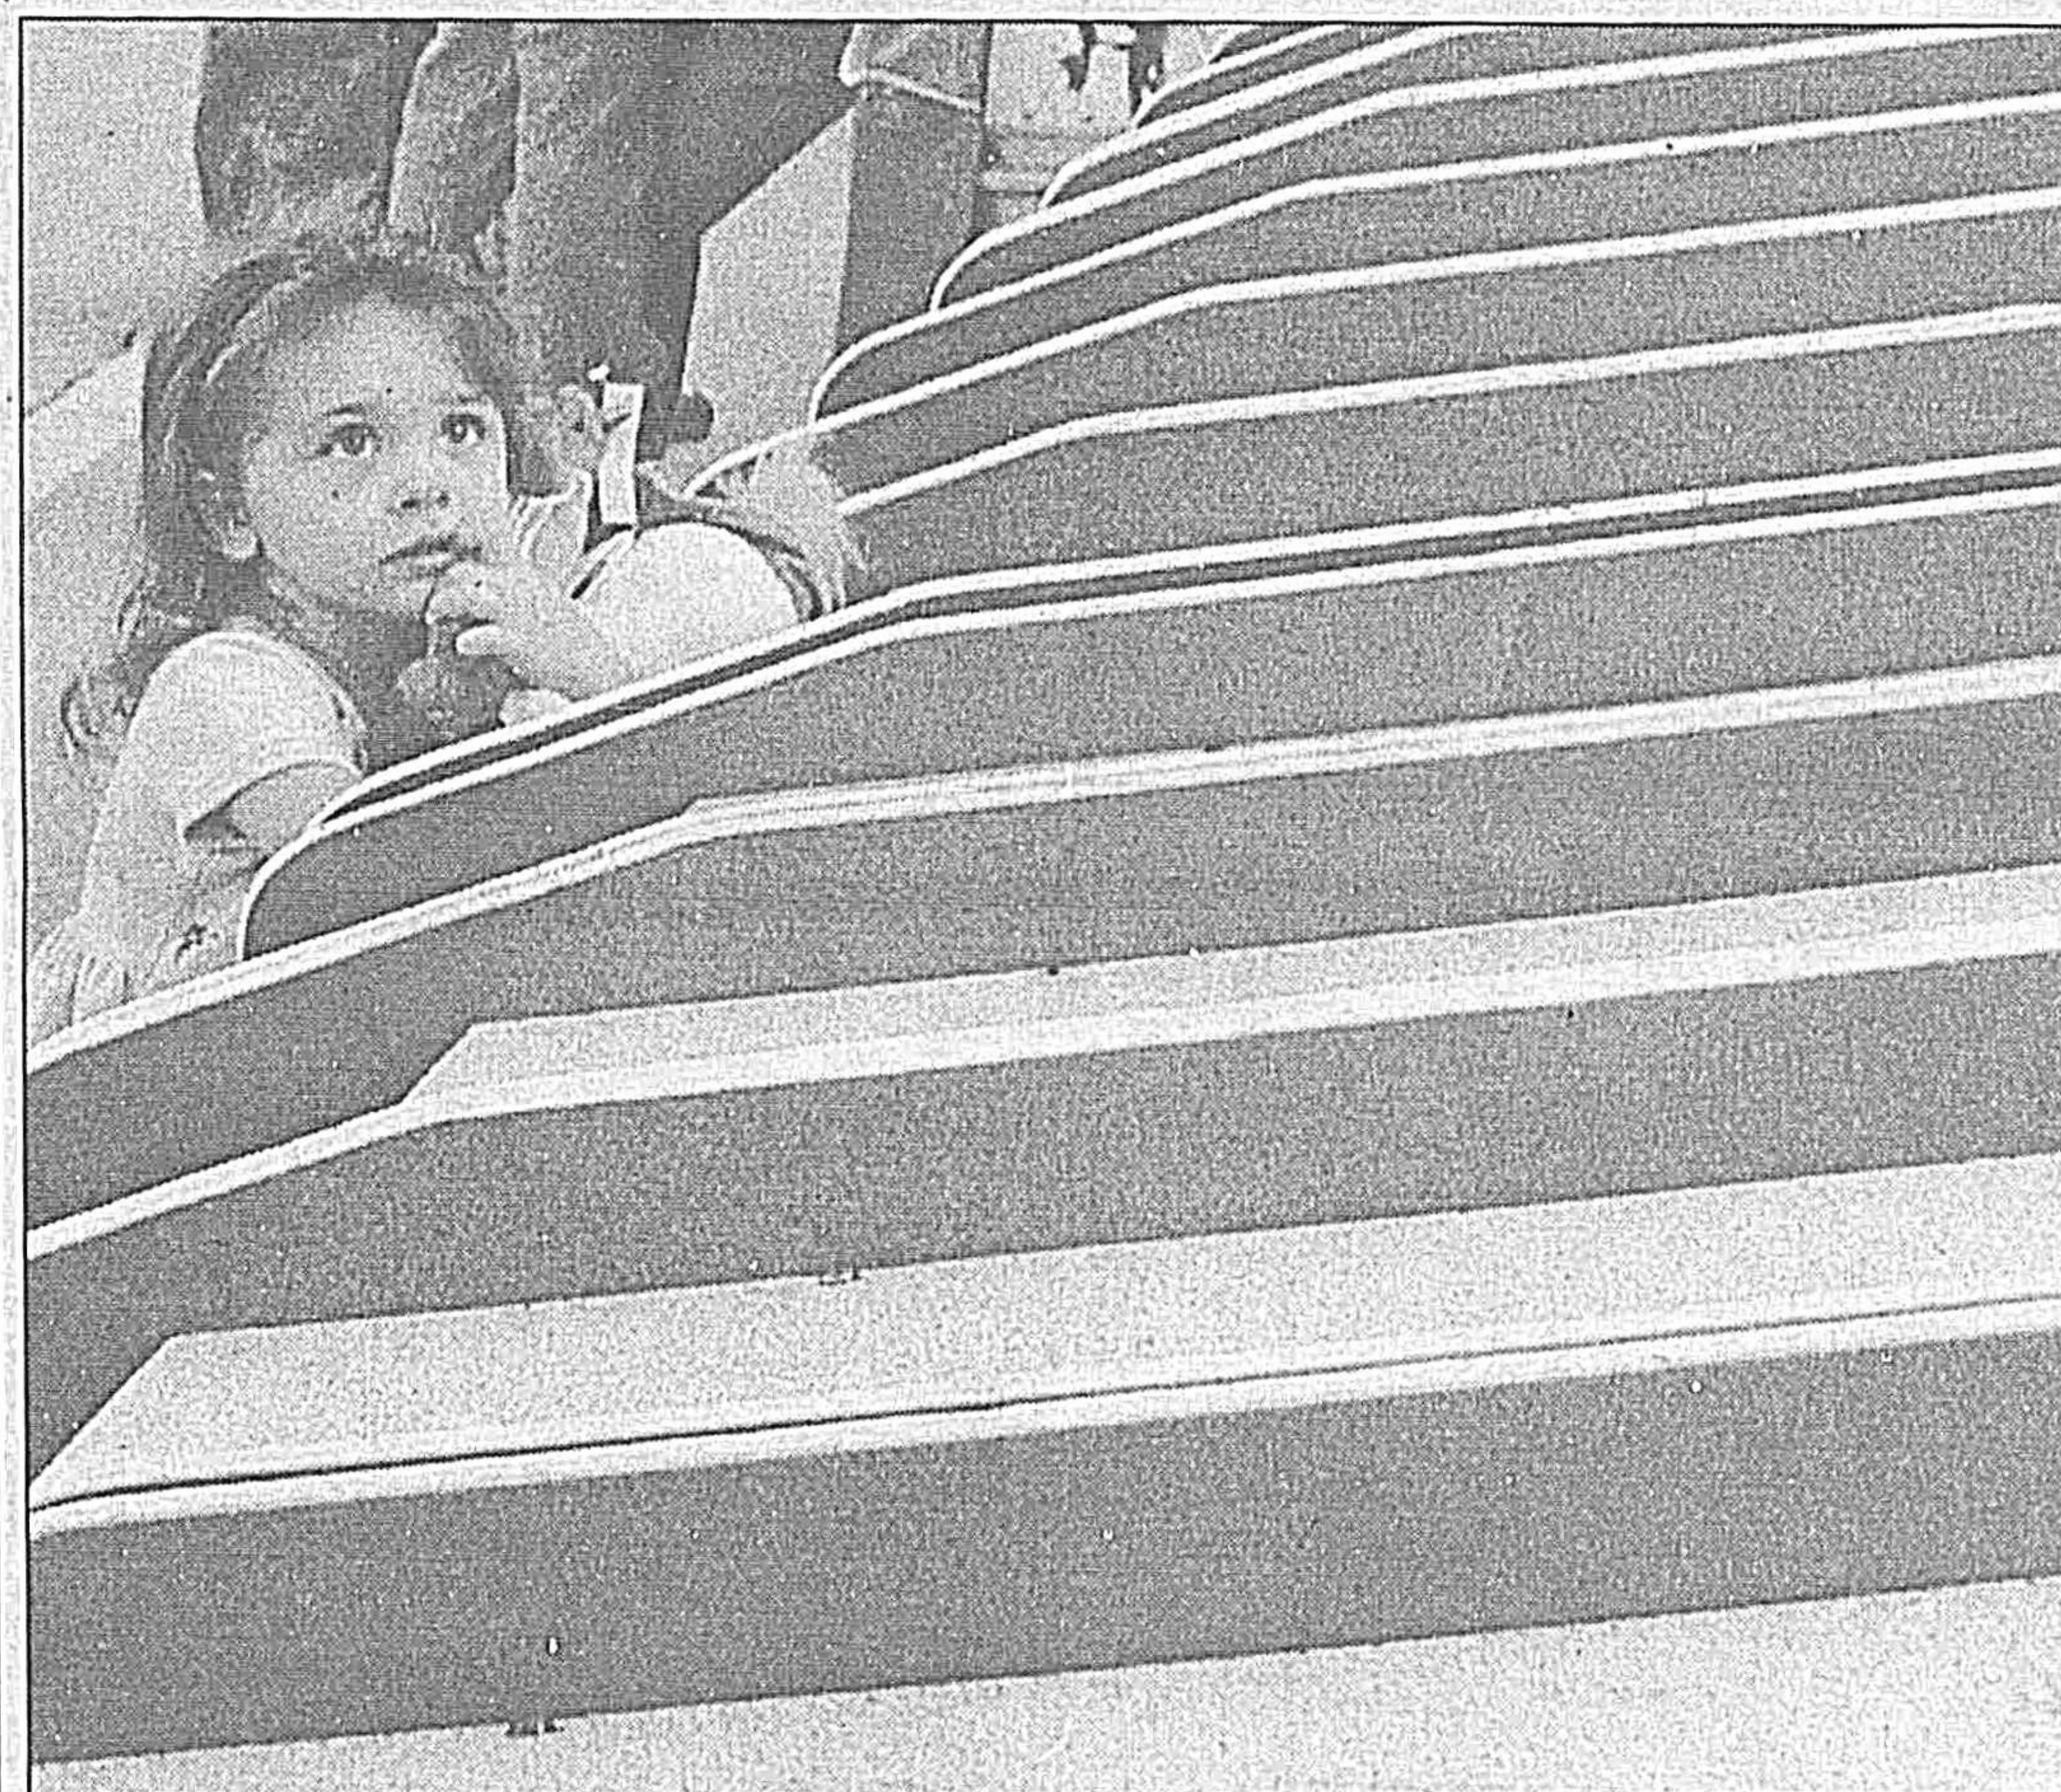

"If we get something really fancy, we might add it to the raffle to entice people to buy more raffle tickets," said Wilson. "We'll play it by ear and see what we have when the time comes."

The foundation is accepting all sponsorships and donations (items for door prizes). Sponsorships are as follows: entire hole, $400; tee, $200; green, $150; 150-yard, $75; and cart, $50.

The foundation is made up of 11 members, including Supt. John Hunt.

"We will take anything for a door prize or donation," said Wilson. "We just try to raise as much money as we can to help the district."

More information and reservation information is available at www.dist34.lake.k12.il.us or by calling Wilson at 847-395-0113.

Hillcrest adds new 'village'

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"Hillcrest opened full," said Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 Supt. John Hunt. "The growth rate increased more than what was expected when it was designed."

Hunt said the district is in the process of adding a 12-room addition and another multipurpose room on the south end of the building to accommodate growing needs.

"We're adding another village to the school that consists of 12 rooms," he said. "We should be finished in for the opening of the next school year (2003-04)."

Hunt said there were 550 students enrolled at Hillcrest this year and that that put the school at full capacity. He said another teacher or two might need to be added when school starts and all of the students are registered in the district.

Additionally, the district is constructing a bus parking lot at the Antioch Upper Grade School.

"We've been leasing a lot from Janis Plastics, but we'd like to have the buses moved by the beginning of school," said Hunt. He added that if the deadline were to be missed, it wouldn't be by much.

The board of directors of the Village of Antioch approved waiving the construction permit fees for the school district.

Antioch resident wins vacation

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Though it's sunny and warm now, wintry weather comes quickly to this area.

Antioch resident Kim Mrkonich won't have to worry about winter blues. She won her choice of either a Caribbean Cruise or a stay at an all-inclusive resort in Cancun in the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry's summer raffle.

Mrkonich will be awarded one trip of choice to one of those two locations, as she was the lucky person holding the winning ticket when the drawing was held at Antioch's Taste of Summer.

Only 300 tickets were sold, but no worries.

Summer festivals brighten local scene

Lake Villa Days, Lindenfest festivals bring cool family-oriented fun to scorching August days

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

If April is the cruelest month, August must surely be the kindest, with two consecutive weekends of family-oriented fun.

From Aug. 1-4, (Thursday-Sunday) the Lake Villa Volunteer Fire Department will hosts its 69th annual Lake Villa Days celebration at Lehmann Park, on Cedar Avenue. Festivities begin at 7 p.m. Thursday and Friday nights, 4 p.m. on Saturday, and noon on Sunday.

The following weekend, from Aug. 8-11, the village of Lindenhurst will hosts its 19th annual Lindenfest celebration at Slove Park, on grand Avenue and Sand Lake Road. Events begin at about 6 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and at noon on Saturday and Sunday.

Although they have a lot in common (family-oriented activities, games, Bingo, raffles, rides, food) they also have some distinctive differences.

Lake Villa Days is a fund-raising event. The proceeds are used to provide upgraded equipment and facilities for the volunteer fire department.

Lindenfest is its own reason for being, with not-for-profit Lindenfest, Inc. existing solely to provide another Lindenfest. The proceeds are used to pay for each year's festival.

Lake Villa Days is famed for its water fights. Each year, firefighters and business people take hoses in hand and soak each other for the benefit of the department.

This year, the Lake County Firefighters Waterfights will be held on Saturday, Aug. 3, with registration at 4:30 p.m. and the fights at 5 p.m. Local Businessmen's and Businesswomen's Waterfights will be held Sunday, Aug. 4, with men's water fights registering at 11 a.m. and water flowing at noon. The women's event immediately follows.

Lindenfest is a series of events, any one able to stand on its own.

The weekend is kicked off at 5:45 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 8, with the Miss Lindenhurst pageant, when Lindenhurst selects its 2002 Miss, Junior Miss and Little Miss in an open-air pageant. The 2002 queens will compete in the County Fair 2003 pageants.

(Whitney Sehmer, Miss Lindenhurst 2001, has just been selected first runner-up to Miss Lake County 2002, who just happens to be Jessica Marro, Miss Lake Villa 2002.)

Other highlights of Lindenfest include a parade on Saturday, Aug. 10, at 10:30 a.m., the Mayor's Auction on Aug. 10, at 1 p.m. and non-stop entertainment, with bands, magicians, mimes and dancers.

Lake Villa Days raffle tickets are $1 each, or six for $5. The raffles are for cash, in escalating amounts each evening. Winners need not be present to win. Tickets are available from the fire department.

For more information about Lake Villa Days, call the Lake Villa Fire Department at 847-356-2525 or the Lake Villa Village Hall at 847-356-6100.

For information about Lindenfest, call the Lindenhurst Village Hall at 847-356-8252.

Bank offers cash for trying services

Though banks don't usually give money away, First National Bank-Employee Owned (FNBO) is doing just that to entice new customers to try its "common sense" checking accounts.

Now through Sept. 30, new account holders will be given their choice of $575 reduction in closing costs on a mortgage, or $50 into a CD or savings account.

corner of the building that will make room for a new staircase as well as a new air conditioning unit. Hausman added that the interior would be more comfortable with better heating and air conditioning.

Hausman said the auditorium has been renamed in memory of Dolly Spiering, and that the sprinkling system has been dedicated to Homer and Francis LaPlant in honor of their bequest.

He said that the oval windows that had been covered over in years past will be reinstalled. "The outside of the building isn't going to change very much, but what does change will make it look more like it did originally," he said.

The seating configuration will change as the balcony is being reshaped into a horseshoe, and the theater will actually lose seven seats going from a 183-seat capacity to 176.

"The seats are cranberry and gray so we decided to make those our interior colors," Hausman added.

Most of the money for the renovation will come from the bequest of Spiering, though two-thirds of the total bequest has been placed in an investment account to help PM&L an Antioch tradition well into the future.

PM&L is selling tiles to help offset costs. The tiles will eventually fill the north wall of the new coffee room in the lower level.

All donations to PM&L Theatre are tax-deductible. Tiles for the "wall of recognition" will be sold in three sizes.

A 4 by 8 inch tile with three lines of up to 13 letters will cost $50. An 8 by 8 inch tile with five lines of up to 13 letters will cost $100. A 12 by 12 inch tile with seven lines of up to 19 letters will cost $500. Logos can be included on the tile.

For more information about purchasing a tile, call Hausman at 847-395-7489.

DEAL

like to preserve the entire wetland complex by purchasing all of the watershed. "Lake Pollack is a high quality lake," added Westerman. "We'd like to restore the swimming beach some day, and ensuring that the water quality remains high is key to that."

As part of Neumann Homes' compliance with the agreement, the developer will construct a trail from the south side of Route 173 east to Pollack Lake.

This is the 20th acquisition made using funds from the voter approved referendum (November 2000) and increases the total Forest Preserve acreage in Lake County to 24,209. Additionally, it meets the district's land acquisition goals for preserving natural resources, providing trail linkages, flood control protection and adding to existing preserves.

The "memorandum of understanding" outlines commitments that must be fulfilled by all parties within 90 days to settle all of the current litigation. The trial, that was to have begun on June 24, will be rescheduled for day 91 if any of the parties fail to fulfill the terms of this agreement.

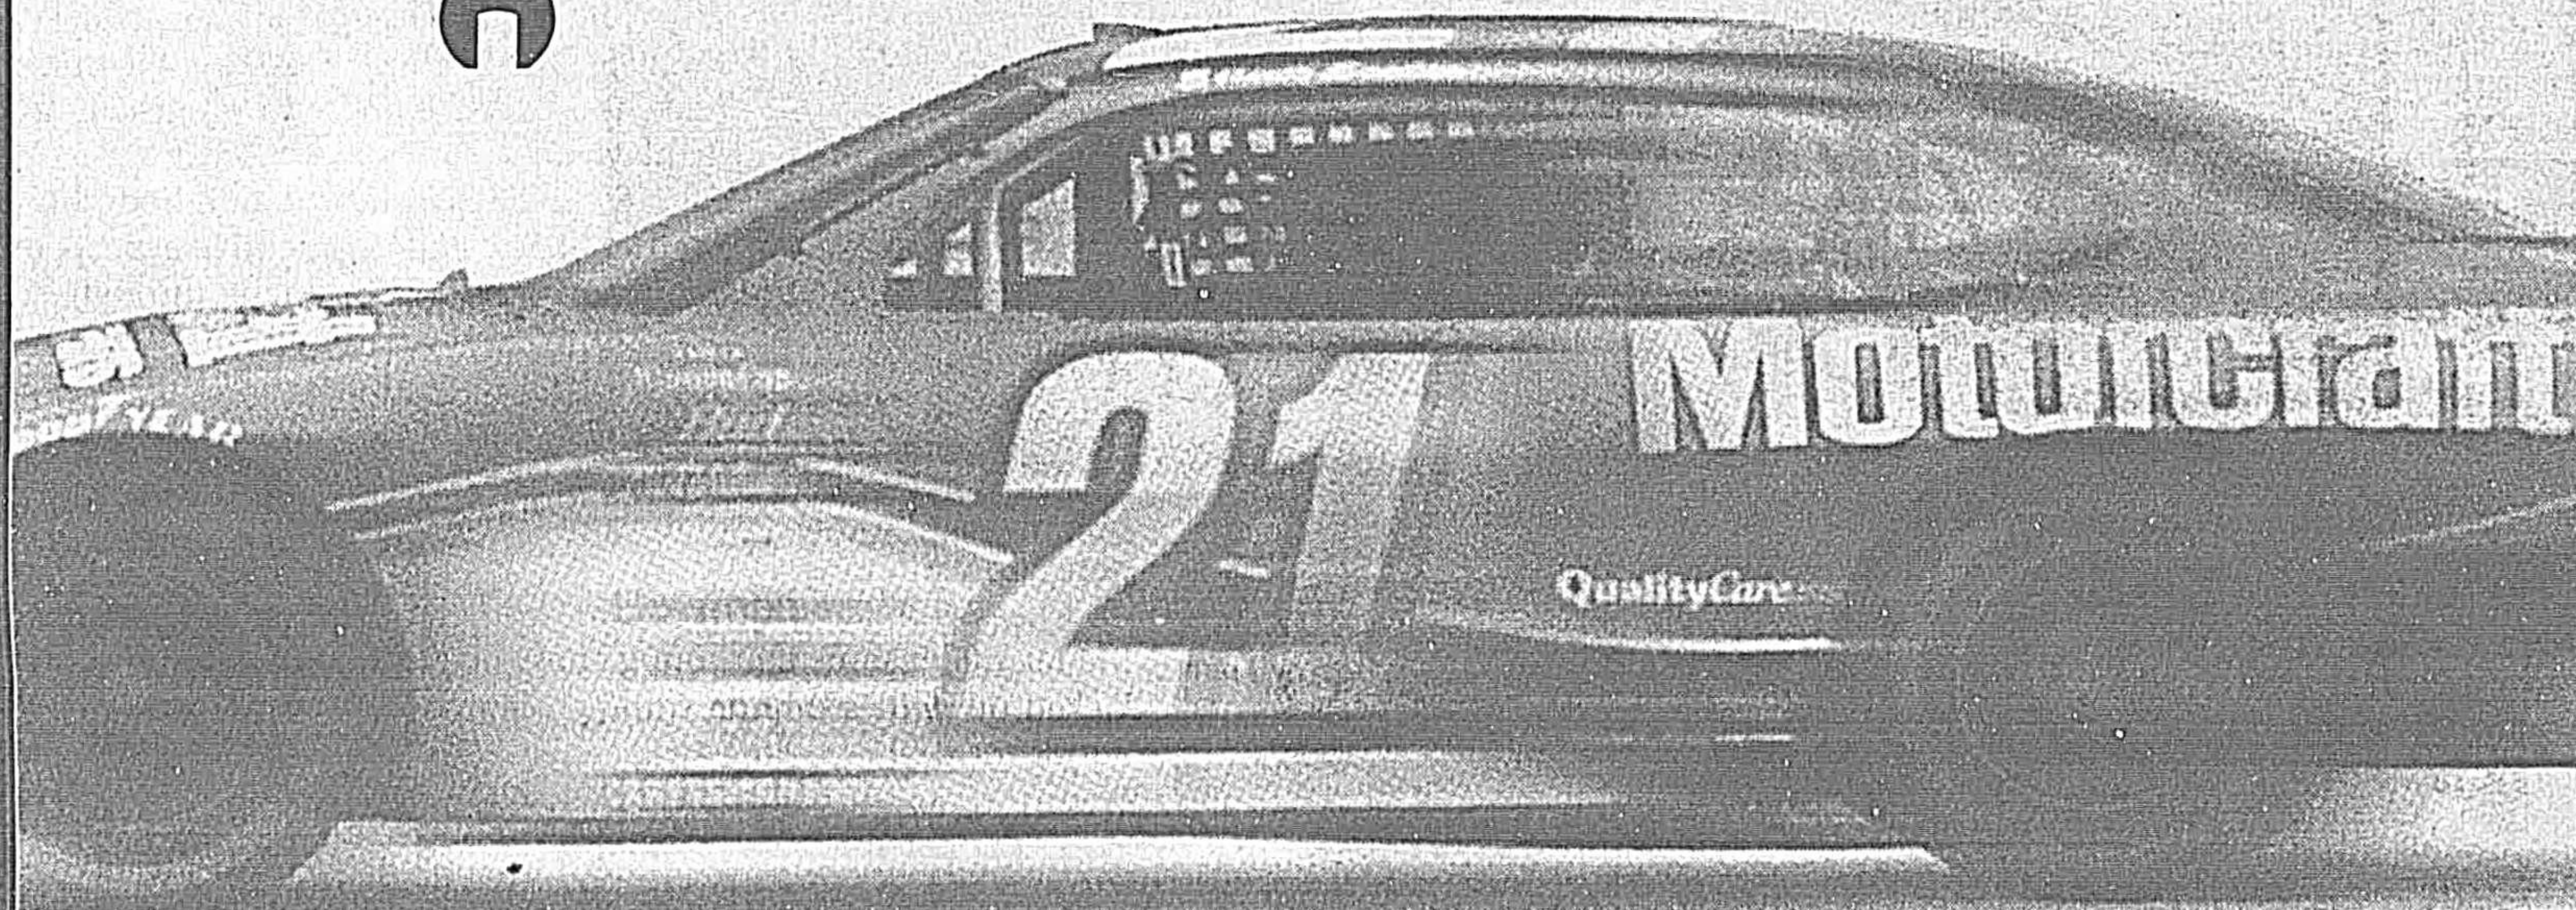

In addition to selling property to the Forest Preserve District, Goshgarian ruled Neumann Homes would submit a new proposal for the remaining 435 acres for 960 single-family homes with lot sizes of no less than 7,800 square feet.

Additionally, Neumann Homes will, in essence, buy out Deercrest and become the developer for the already approved preliminary proposal on Otto Sprenger's property. A petition for annexation of 55 acres will be made at the southeast corner of Savage Rd. and Rte. 173 with 30 acres to be zoned commercial and 25 acres to be zoned for a school.

The Village of Antioch was responsible for sewer as well as water easements in the East Sub-Area properties involved in the litigation.

to look at," she said. "But, the important thing is that our community, and those surrounding us, were pleased with how things worked out."

Because of the village's financial difficulties, Porch said the Chamber hired out more of the services than it has in previous years. "We tried to make our needs less, but a great big thank you still goes to the village for letting us be in this lovely location and for the services it did provide."

Porch said the signage directing Taste-goers to parking, as well as the events, was more than ample. "We were able to do things without infringing on the parking of the regular shops on the east side of Main Street. All the comments we've had coming in have been positive."

The rides and entertainment kept the crowds riveted. "Even when it rained on Saturday, and it was a straight downpour, people didn't want to leave. BBI was playing, and everyone just stayed," said Porch.

According to Porch, all of the food vendors have asked to return for next year, something that should please attendees as one of the most frequent compliments was about the nice variety of food offered. She said, "We always give first option for the food vendor slots to Antioch businesses, but sometimes we have to go outside to fill things."

Porch added that the food area was particularly nice this year with all of the food vendors in one line and shaded tents that allowed for breezes, and relief from the heat and humidity.

"Bingo was packed each day," said Porch. "Everyone had a lot of fun."

Porch also extended thanks to the Antioch Woman's Club who ran the soda pop concession for the Chamber. "We make a donation to the club and it staffs the concession. It works out well for both us and we appreciate their help."

Antioch All-Star 10s win title

For the third time in four years the Antioch 10-year-old All-Star baseball team won the District 16 tournament and advanced to the sectional tournament that will be played this weekend.

Antioch defeated Grayslake National 5-3 in the championship game to earn their third district tournament crown.

"Antioch has had a lot of success over the past few years," said Antioch Youth Baseball Director and All-Star Team Manager Chris Kent.

Antioch ace Logan Kent earned the win on the mound, although suffering an injury to his arm.

According to Chris Kent, Logan should be ready to go come sectional time this weekend.

"I hope he'll be able to pitch. It will be difficult for us to win if he doesn't," Chris Kent said.

If Antioch is able to advance through the sectional, it will become only the second 10-year-old team to do so in league history.

"Our goals this weekend are to represent Antioch well, display good sportsmanship, and just continue to learn as a team," said Kent. "Another goal is to win and move on because I think it would be a good experience for the kids."

According to Kent, every player 1-12 has played a vital part in the team's success thus far.

"Everybody on this team has played a role," he said. "The team has come together and individually everyone has accepted their roles."

The latest addition to the sports medicine program at Round Lake High School was a golf cart featuring "Panther Pride" for use by the athletic trainer Scott DeGraff and his student athletic trainers. The cart was donated by Terry Hagen, general manager of Platinum Collision Body Shop off of Rte. 45, Lake Villa.—Photo by John Phelps

It'll grab ya

Looking good, Round Lake! Things have certainly progressed beautifully where the new and improved athletic training room at Round Lake High School is concerned.

With Condell Director of Sports Medicine Larry Scire spearheading the efforts, the new training room should be completed as scheduled by the first, if not, the second week in August.

"We're right on target," said Scire. "This was one of the larger (586 square feet) rooms we've had to work with. When it's done, it will be equivalent how every fully-equipped training room should be."

Since the project started three weeks ago, Scire and several members of his athletic training staff have assisted in the following: tearing down partisan wall, re-painting the entire room, laying down all new white tile, installing the countertops and cabinets, and just this week, installing the electrical beams and plumbing. The lighting fixtures have also been totally re-done.

"We've basically turned this from a Timex watch into a Rolex watch," said Scire. Panther athletes—you'll like what you see.

Right off the bat when you enter the room will be a big 24-by-36-color picture of a black Panther. To the left on the same wall will be medical charts and quarterback Mike Lampi's jersey, whom they're dedicating the room after.

"This is going to be one of the nicest athletic training rooms that Condell has been a part of," said Scire. "We just want it to serve as an inspiration to the students and athletes. It will definitely carry a highly motivated atmosphere."

The main room will serve as taping, treatment and rehab area. There will be three treatment tables, an isokinetic machines for the upper and lower body, and a Shuttle 2000, which is a plyometric sled for lower extremity rehab.

There will also be an office area in the main room. To the right will be a hydrotherapy, or wet room. A third light fixture was installed for better lighting. Plastic mesh in the colors yellow and navy blue will be laid down to prevent slipping. Some of the equipment that has been ordered includes therapeutic modalities, an icemaker, an ultrasound machine, and therapy tables.

Scire said all of the equipment has already been ordered and should be here within the next week.

"This basically wouldn't be possible if not for the help of several of my staff," said Scire.

Among those who have donated numerous hours to the renovating effort include the following high school athletic trainers contracted by Condell: Vernon Hills' Jim Schiltz and Kirsten Rotan; Grayslake's Glen Gerdes; Carmel's Henrichs; Lake Forest College's Kim Woelfel; and Mundelein's Al Lukomski. Condell Clinical Trainer Rick Nolte also assisted in the efforts.

Bumps and bruises can't slow down Antioch Shotokan

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Once again, they came, they saw, they conquered.

After earning nine total medals at the Amateur Athletic Union National Karate Championships last year in Louisiana, Antioch Shotokan Karate students equaled that accomplishment and then some last week in Salt Lake City.

ASK, under the guidance of Chief Instructor and Owner Anna Conners, brought home brought eight medals, including one individual National champion in Krystal Mason. Mason, competing in the intermediate 10-year-old division, took the gold in kumite, or sparring. Mason also earned a silver medal in kata, or the forms discipline.

National crowns also went to the Team Kata group of Conners, Terri Cox and Cindy Bruess. In Team Kata, all three members are synchronized together. Conners also joined forces with Deb Conners and Gene Barcieski in taking the gold in Team Kumite. In Team Kumite, the three members fight individually against three members from another team. To advance to the next round, a team must win two of the three matches.

But competing at this level also means competitors are apt to pull out all of the stops. Just ask Anna Conners' husband Mike, who got a raw deal in his quarterfinal match.

Fighting in the advanced 40-year-old division, Mike ran into a little different kind of challenger, one who demonstrated the kind of kumite that is not taught at ASK. Kumite that centers around control.

"I guess he (my opponent) wanted to go full contact. His intent was definitely to hurt someone," said Mike Conners, who suffered a broken bone just above the ankle in his right leg. That was the result of a third consecutive illegal hit to the face, a hit that in the process also gave Conners a concussion. Conners broke the bone in his leg upon landing awkwardly from that hit. His opponent wound up being disqualified after three full point deductions.

"He just totally disregarded the penalties and warnings," said Anna Conners. "Mike was looking pretty good up until that point. But you never know in kumite, who you're going up against."

Despite being unable to continue in the competition, Mike Conners still took a very respectable fifth-place finish. Two years ago at Nationals in Virginia, he finished third while losing to the eventual national champion.

Surgery the night of the incident resulted in pins and a plate being inserted into Conners' ankle. He's obviously had to stay off of it since Nationals. But recovery is going about as good as expected.

"I'm hoping to start rehab in the next couple of weeks," he said. "But things have been going pretty well up to this point."

Other results from Nationals included Adam Refaelov earning a bronze medal in both kata and kumite. Refaelov competed in the Novice 14-year-old division. Adam's brother Ben finished seventh in both kata and kumite while competing in the Beginners 10-year-old division. Efrain Oliveras, competing in the seven-year-old Intermediate division, picked up a bronze in kumite and a fourth-place in kata. In the advanced 17-year-old category, Graham Conners was fifth in kumite and seventh in kata. Graham's brother Shane also finished seventh in kata in the 12-year-old intermediate category. Colin Flanigan also competed well in the Intermediate 12-year-old division. He finished sixth in both kata and kumite. And Sensei Anna, no stranger to national competition, brought home a silver in kata and a bronze in kumite.

"Overall, this was a great experience for everyone," said Anna (Conners). "Salt Lake is a beautiful city. Everyone really enjoyed themselves."

On a related note, Colin Flanigan's mother, Cynthia Flanigan, sang the National Anthem during the Opening Ceremonies and prior to the final matches.

"She did a wonderful job," said Anna Conners. "Everyone was complementing her. She represented Antioch very well."

As part of preparing for Nationals, most of the ASK students trained at FOCUS Martial Arts in Lake In The Hills under the direction of Sensei Jim O'Hara.

'Rusty gate' syndrome doesn't last long for Indians

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Chances are the Kenosha Senior Indians 18- and-under summer travel baseball team won't be in a slump for too long when it comes to hitting.

But with the North American Baseball Federation Evansville regional coming up July 25-26, a little refresher course can be helpful.

And it couldn't be more convenient for Indians head skipper Paul Gagliardi, who owns a small farm behind his home in Kenosha. On that farm—a baseball field that includes three mounds.

So when the Indians looked a little lethargic, or like 'rusty gates' with the bats last week against Palatine, Gagliardi brought the fellas over for a little fine tuning the night before leaving for Southern Indiana.

"I think we worked it out," the coach said. "They're starting to hit the ball. They know there's going to be some good competition down at the regional. There's some luck involved but you also have to play at the top of your game."

Good competition is what the Indians seem to thrive on. Last year, eight players from this group return from a team that won the Troy (Mich.) regional and moved on to the NABF World Series in Wilmington, Delaware.

And to show how strong the program is, the 16-year-old Indians, or Junior Indians, finished second in the NABF World Series after winning the Fort Wayne (Ind.) regional.

But this Jr. Indians team, or program, is hungry for another trip to the big dance, to be held in Toronto, Canada later next week.

Antioch grad Shawn Schuler, who will play at College of Lake County starting this fall, has really benefited from playing with the Indians this summer.

"Every game, you're playing a really good team," said Schuler, who is currently batting a robust .396 at the plate. "You also get to see a lot better pitching. That makes you think more at the plate."

Speaking of pitching, Schuler also carries a 4-0 record with a 3.43 ERA on the hill.

As far as the roster is concerned, Grant products Larry Gemp Jr. (.435 BA, 6 homers), Chad Stroup, Eric Lemcke (.433 BA), Brendan Lutz (.301) and Dave Behm have joined forces with the likes of Antioch's Chris Malec (2-0 pitching, 2.47 ERA, 60 K's), Schuler (.396 BA, 4-0 pitching, 3.43 ERA), Scotty Coles (.269 BA) and Joe Finkelberg (.316 BA). And let's not forget about Warren's Jesse Cass (.337 BA) and Mike Rosendahl (.322 BA). Or Mundelein ace Clay Kovac (3-0 pitching, 1.83 ERA, 3.16 BA) and Scott Wold, Grayslake's standout catcher. Throw in for good measure Johnsbury's Fred Popp (.408 BA) and Westosha Central (Wis.) standouts Jeremy McGinn (.304 BA), ace pitcher Kyle Obenauf (5-1 pitching, 1.63 ERA, 36 K's) and Stephen M. Ems II. This team is loaded.

In Evansville, Obenauf, the team's top pitcher, will start game 1. Just this past spring, the powerful righty tossed a no-hitter in the Wisconsin State Championships. Meanwhile, Kovac, no stranger to success having guided the Mustangs to the Elite Eight a couple of months ago, will most likely get the nod in game 2. From there, you have Malec, Behmer, Coles or Schuler, who Gagliardi says is a sleeper and really gutsy on the mound.

Oh, by the way. In the game against Palatine, when the bats were supposedly quiet, Kenosha put a 7-spot on the board in the sixth inning to win comfortably 9-4. Rosendahl was 3-for-4 with a double, run scored and a RBI. Stroup was 2-for-3 with a double, two RBI and two runs scored while Lutz was 2-for-4 with a run scored.

The team followed that up with a 14-2 drubbing of Naperville the following day to improve to 28-10-1 for the summer.

"We just seem to know when to pull the trigger," said Wold.

Pull it in Evansville, gentlemen. You certainly have the big guns.

Warren senior Josh Moran won the boys 18- and-under singles title at the Mississippi Valley Open in Dubuque, Iowa.

Moran had to win five matches against the best of the Iowa Tennis Association to win the Iowa District, Missouri Valley and USTA sanctioned event.

Moran's final match was a 6-2, 3-6, 6-4 victory over Moline's Drew Forsberg, the No. 1 ranked player in the Iowa Tennis Association and part of the doubles tandem that finished sixth in the IHSA State Tournament this past season.

Moran then teamed up with Warren graduate Mark Nelson in the 18-and-under doubles bracket before losing to Forsberg and Scott Golden 6-3, 6-4 in the semifinals. Nelson then proceeded to win the consolation title in the 18-and-under bracket.

However, Josh was not the only Moran to enjoy success at Dubuque.

Incoming Warren freshman Keith Moran advanced to the finals of the 16-and-under division.

The 14-year-old Moran was playing in the 16-and-under bracket to prepare for national 14-and-under tournaments, winning four matches before falling to Dubuque's T.J. Light, Iowa's No. 1 ranked player in the 16-and-under division.

Keith Moran also teamed with Warren senior Joe Doreza to win a match in the 18-and-under doubles division before losing to Rockford's Colin Zimmerman and Belvidere's Scott Robinson, both of whom were all-state performers this past season.

Other Warren camp standouts included: Warren seniors Bill Baluyot and Brandon Miller, Antioch junior Ryan Reimer, Antioch sophomore Robert Reynolds, Warren freshman Patrick O'Connor and Woodland Middle School seventh-graders Konrad Siczek and Chris Kuchar.

The camp will next travel to Springfield in the first week of August to compete in the J.D. Sinnock Junior Open.

All the right moves

Chess Utopia
is a fitness center
for the mind

There are more than a billion moves that can be made in the first four plays of a chess game. Frank Swindell, a Grayslake resident and certified chess coach, is on his way to teaching them.

Swindell has taught hundreds of chess players the basic and competitive aspects of this game. He has taught through school programs, clubs and community organizations but took his passion one step further by opening a new chess center in Grayslake. Chess Utopia, the brainchild of Swindell and his wife, Cindy, is the only chess center in the area where players can come together to learn, compete and have fun.

Chess Utopia, located at 15 Commerce Drive, has already tapped the talent of over 100 young chess players. Although the center has kicked off its season with a summer camp experience, instructor Frank Serrani says the center will continue to offer different programs and opportunities as the business grows. In addition to the summer camp, Chess Utopia sponsors tournaments for both adults and youth, offers private instruction, sponsors school teams and takes chess learning "on the road."

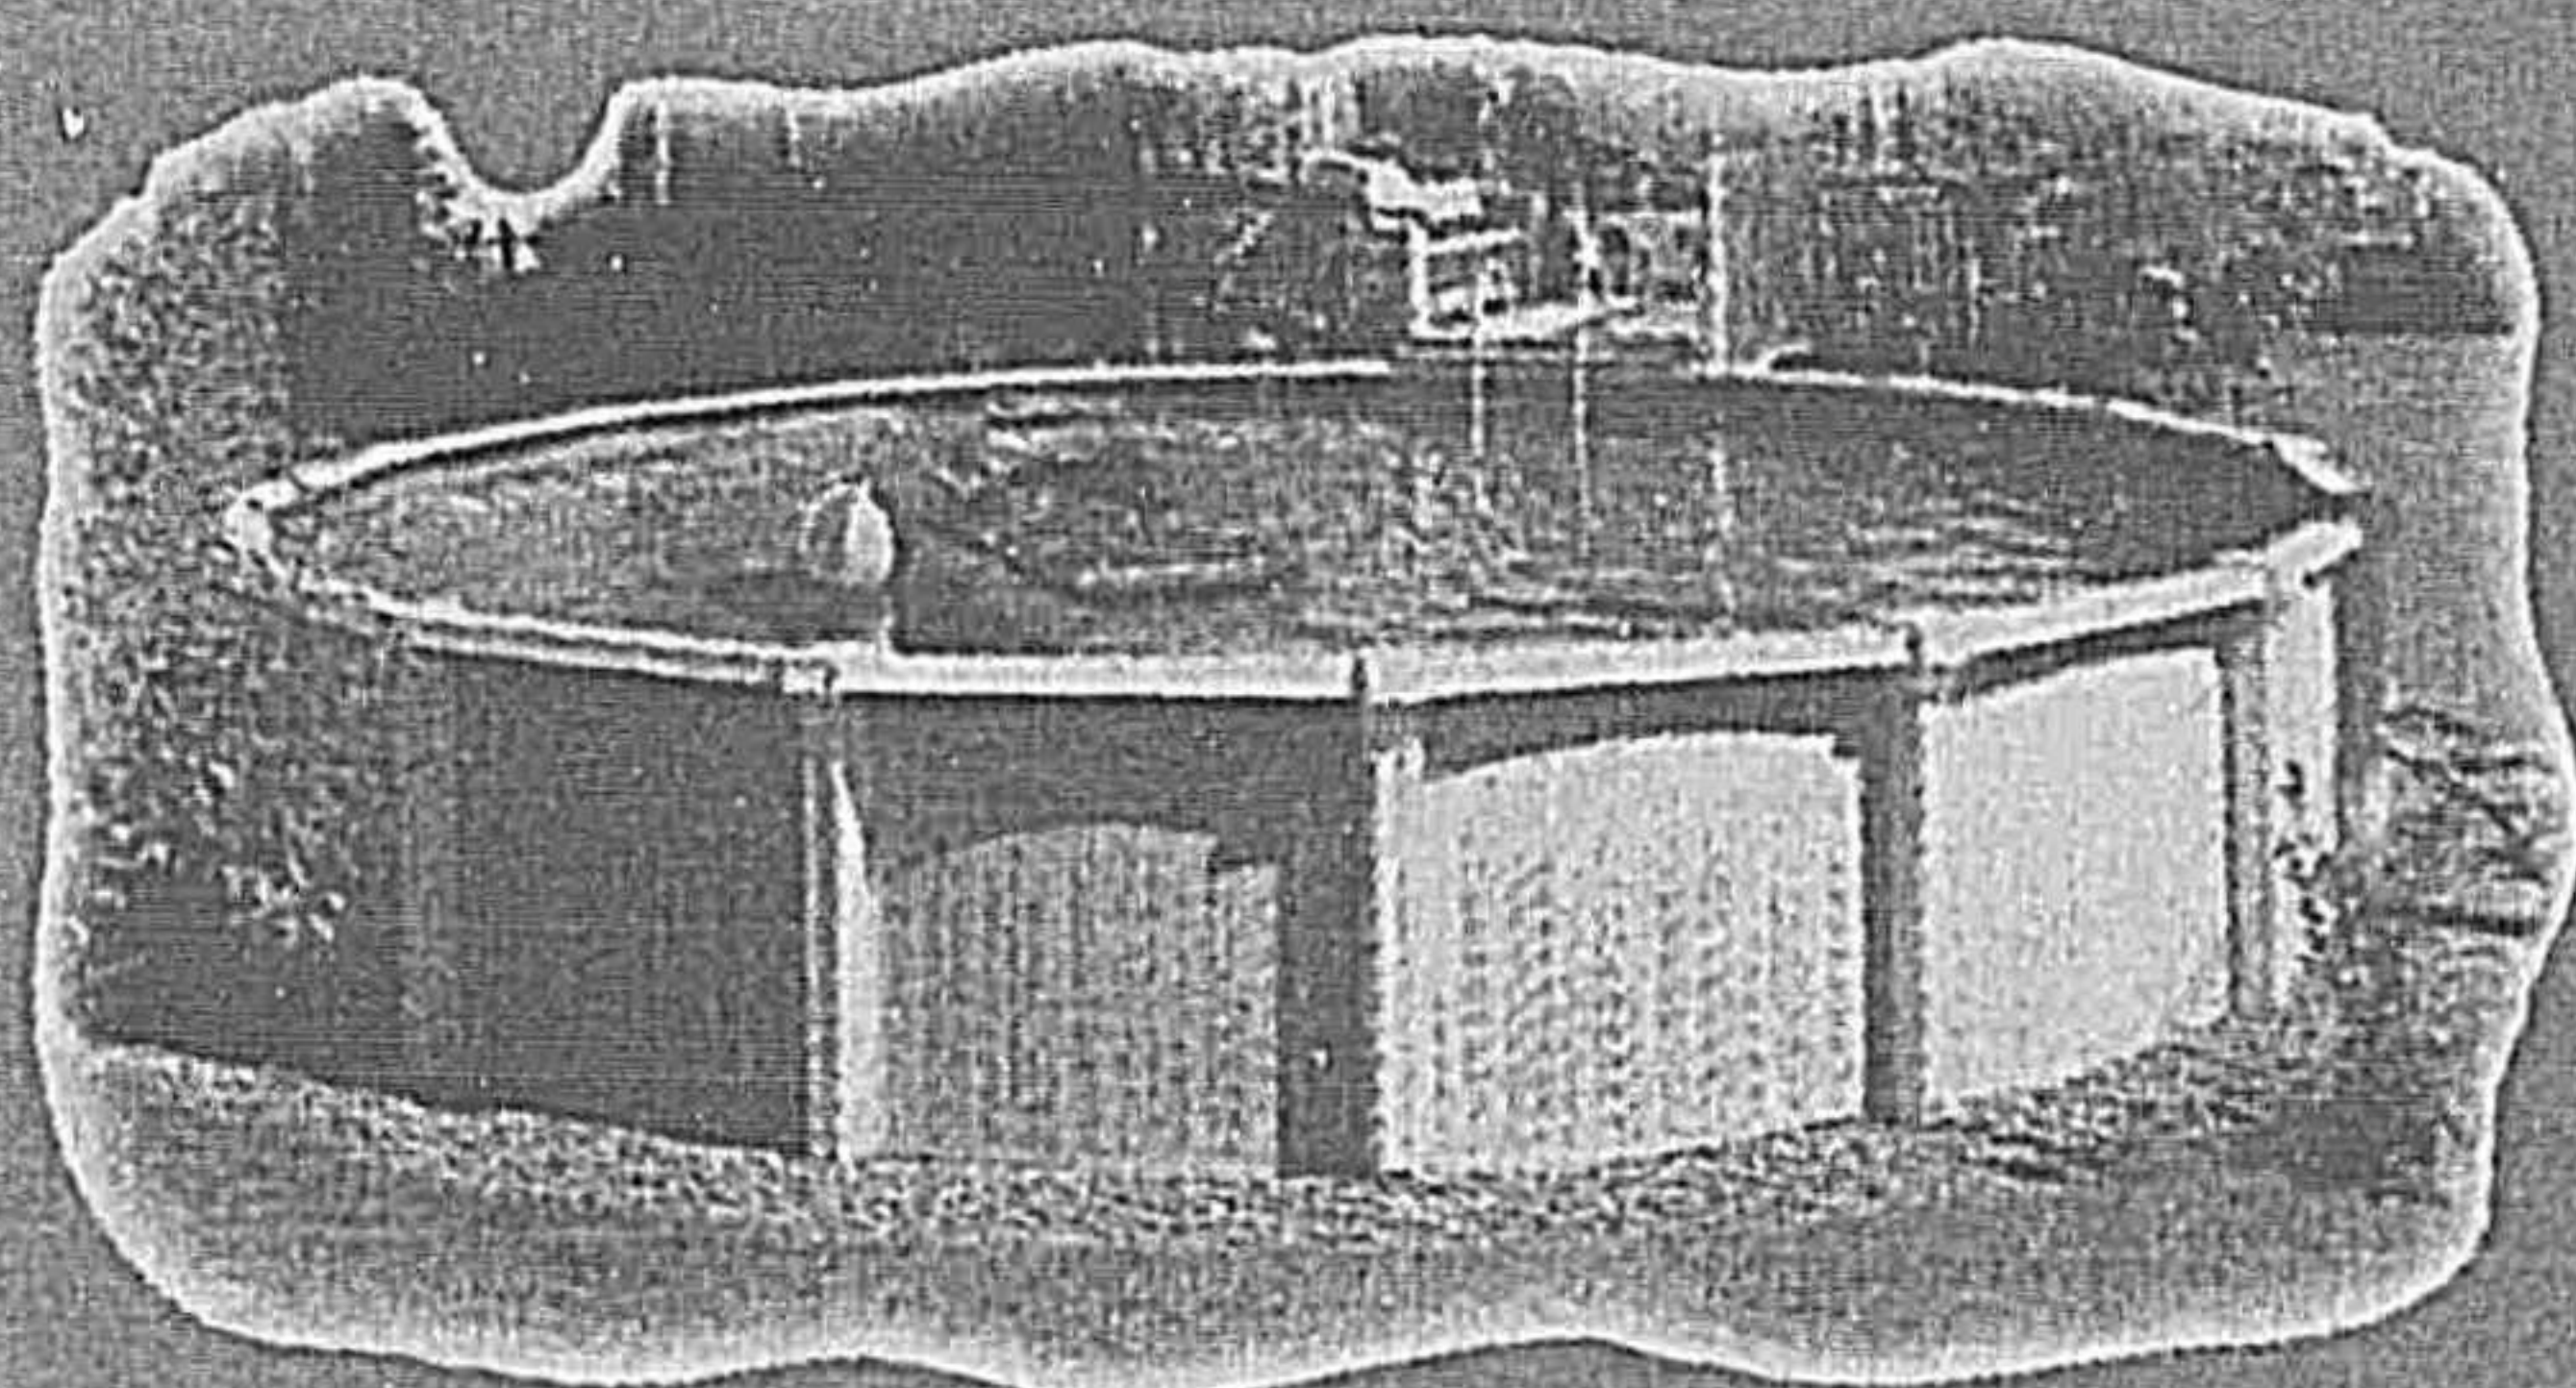

Serrani and Swindell met through their own children, who play chess at St. Gilbert's School in Grayslake. Serrani is now a full-time certified chess instructor with Swindell.

"There's nothing else like this in Illinois. We get people coming in off the street just to find out what we are about," said Serrani.

Swindell and Cindy, parents of seven children ages one through 12, are true chess buffs. Through the years of coaching and teaching, the Swindells have taken chess to a new level in the area. Cindy is a substitute teacher but she and Frank both put their full-time efforts into the chess business.

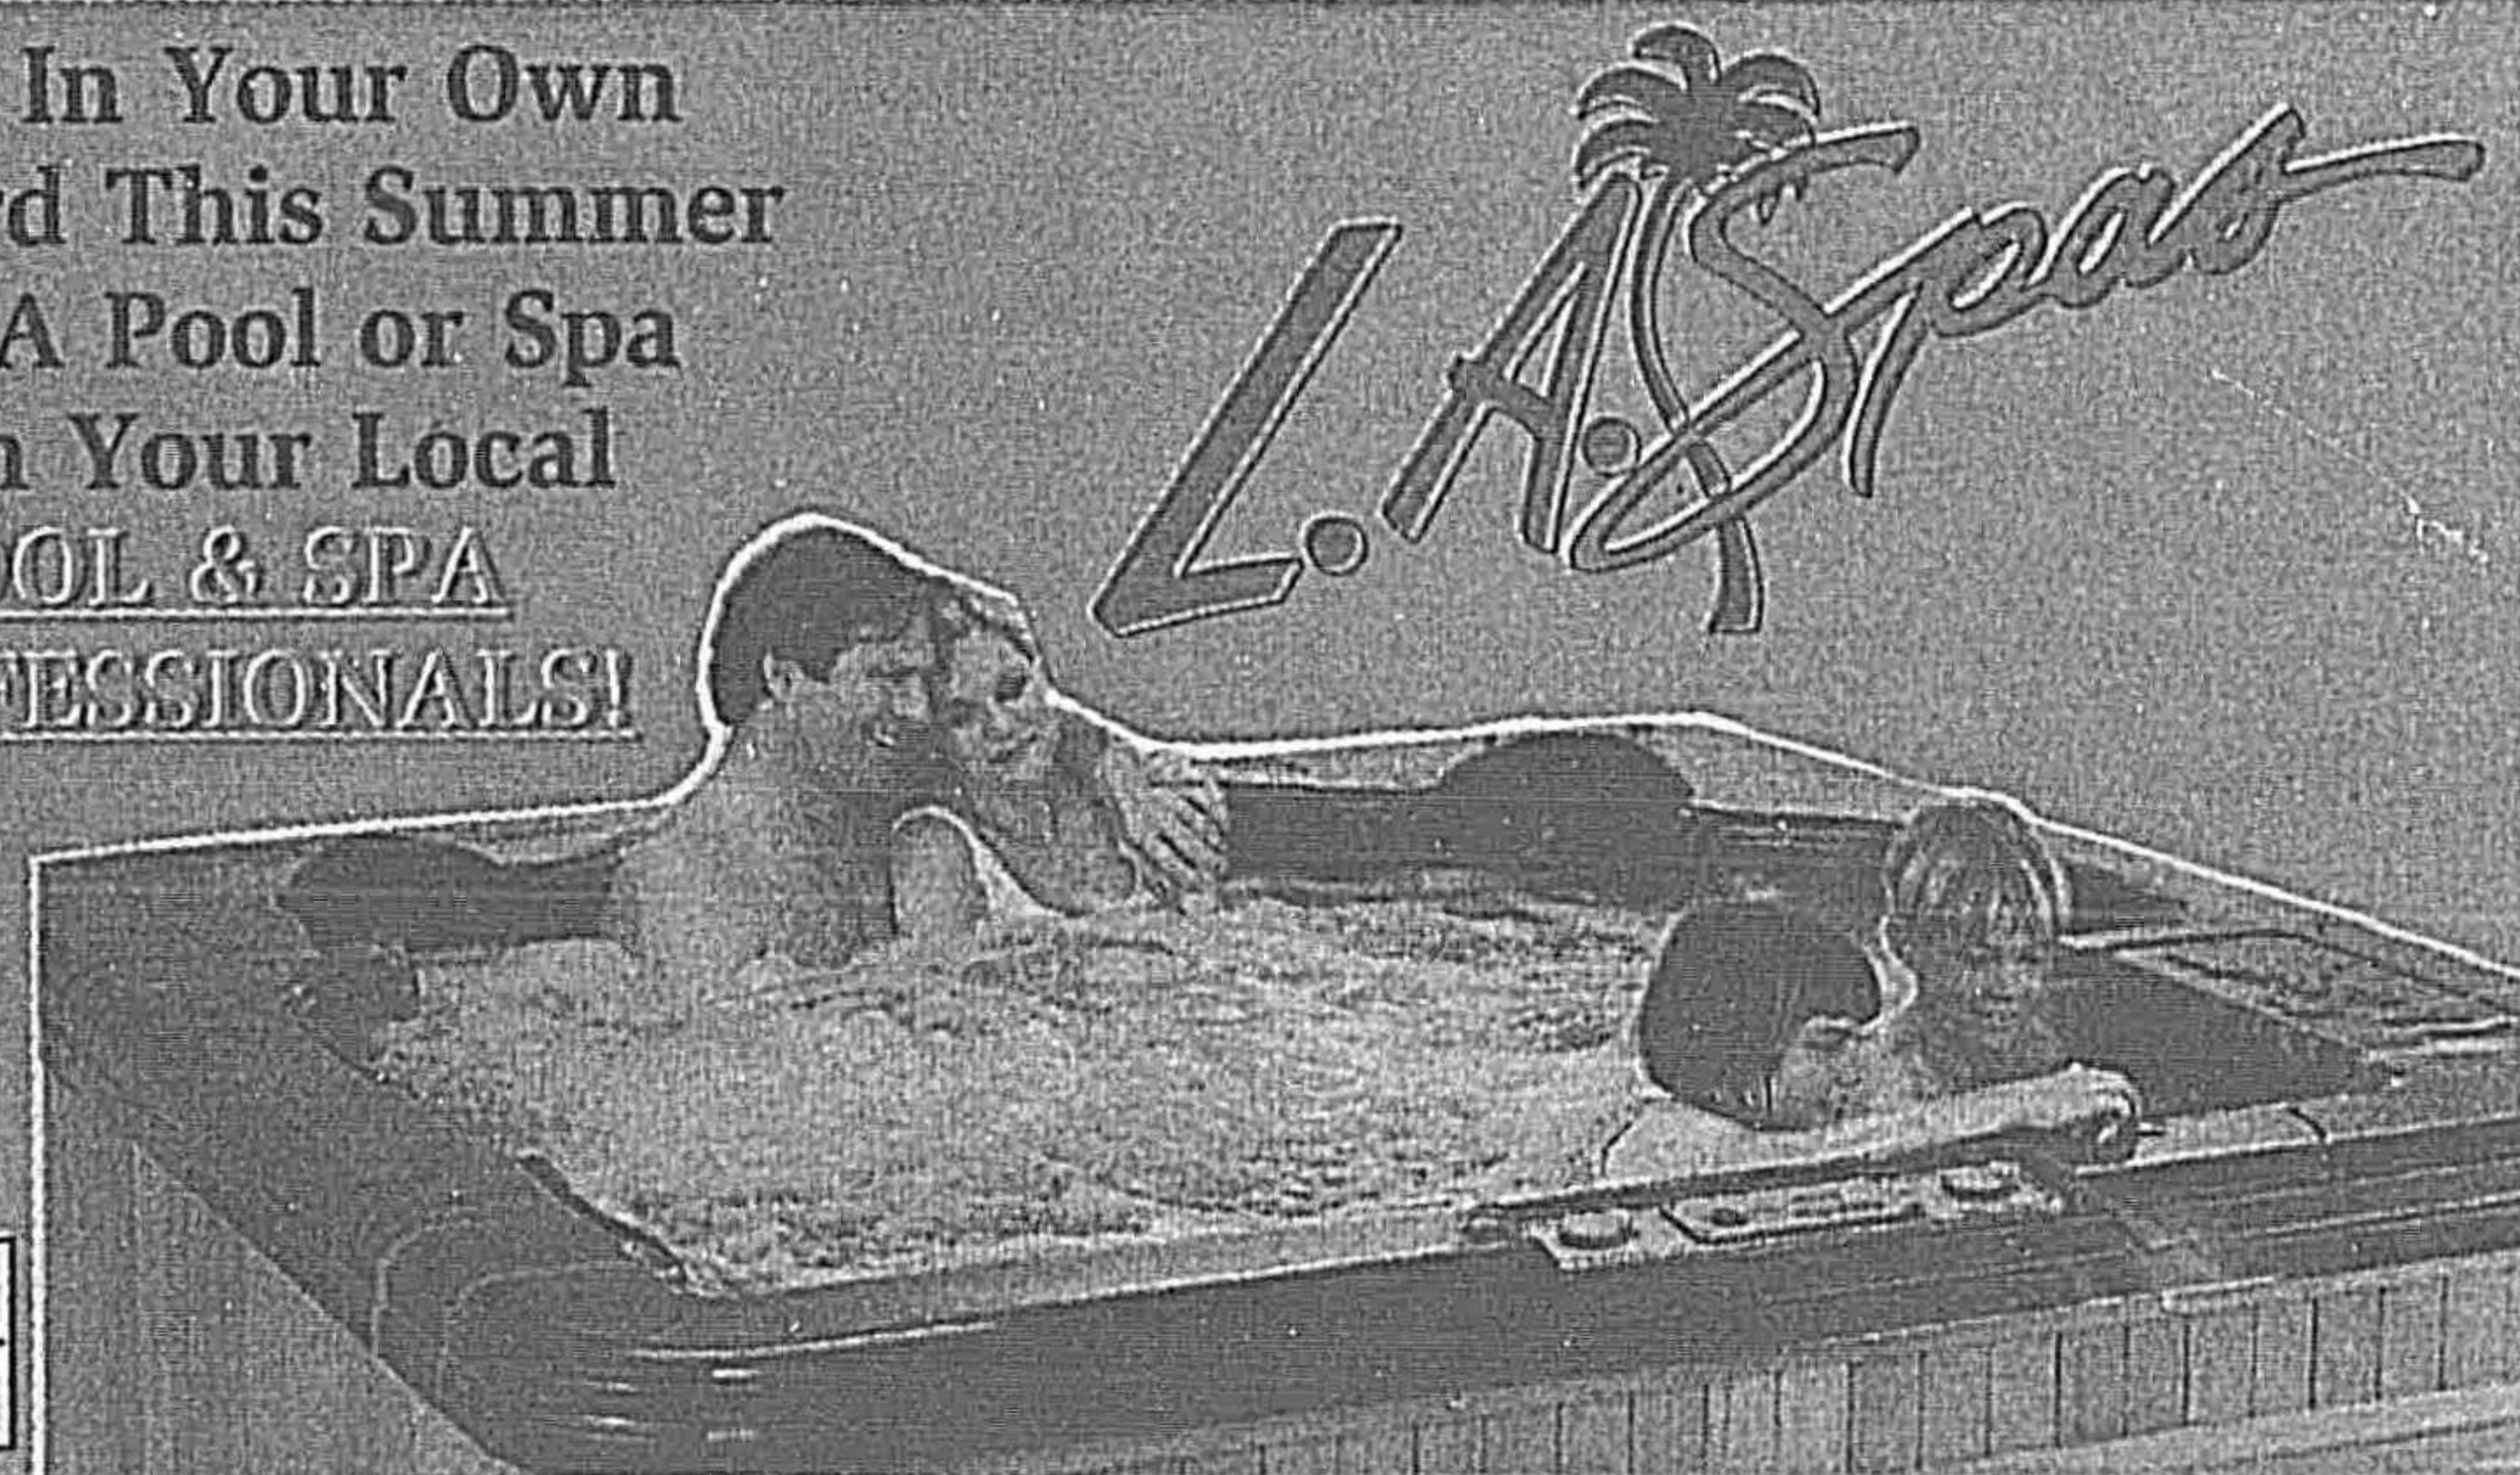

Young chess players fall into two categories, according to Swindell. The competitive players are the ones who subscribe to chess magazines, want to play in tournaments, have chess trophies and school teams and often are looking to move into a professional level of playing. The other type of player is one looking to learn, have fun and improve their skills. Chess Utopia caters to both.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES - March 21/April 20

No one can resist your fiery charm this week, Aries. People flock to you instinctively. Make sure you cast an equal amount of affection in their directions also.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

You may need to understand another point of view later in the week, even if you're not up to adopting it. It's best to keep an open mind in all situations.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

You feel empowered to blow past all of the things which have been slowing you down. Take an interest in someone's affairs and lend a helping hand.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

Don't feel pressure to rush through things this week, Cancer. Remember, the tortoise beat the hare in the end. Enjoy looking at those things along the journey — it's that much more fun.

LEO - July 23/August 23

You spend your days among those closest friends this week, Leo. There's no need to take a leadership role when you're seeing everyone as equals. Romance is possible on Wednesday.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

If others insist on annoying you, keep your distance. You shouldn't get caught up in their foul mood or let it bother you one bit. Delight in some quality "alone time."

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

If you act in a selfless manner this week, Libra, your actions will have a surprisingly large impact. You can make more of a difference than you know. Enjoy the moment.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Stop being so critical, Scorpio. It's high time you start judging people by their results rather than what they did to get there. A new way of thinking inspires you on Tuesday.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Dive headfirst into an adventure in excess, Sagittarius. You may want to rule your life by your emotions for a while, since you are feeling so positive. You can't seem to get enough, so feel free to ask for more.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

You have a hard time keeping secrets this week, Capricorn. Although you may not be more talkative than usual, others seem to be more perceptive. Confide only in those people you trust.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

Favorable events unfold in record time this week, Aquarius. You are in search of quality things and have no patience for anything less. Scorpio shares your point of view.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

Your instincts are sharper than usual, Pisces, so don't believe anything you know deep-down is not true. A friendship needs mending and you should take the first step.

COOKING by the BOOK

Tom Witom

Michigan-grown organic blueberries for use in Waters' wonderful Blueberry and Lemon Tart. It's a good summertime dessert treat. Next visit we will pick up ingredients for melon gelato, raspberry soufflé – or both.

Blueberry and Lemon Tart

Makes one 11-inch tart

LEMON CURD

Grated zest of 2 lemons
Juice of 2 lemons (about 6 Tbl.)
3 Tbl. water
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 lb. (1 stick) unsalted butter
1/4 tsp. salt

3 whole eggs
3 egg yolks
1 pre-baked 11-in. tart shell
BLUEBERRY TOPPING
3 cups blueberries
1/4 cup sugar
2 Tbl. water

To make the lemon curd, put the lemon zest (removed with a zester or a fine grater), lemon juice, water, sugar, butter and salt into a 1-quart heavy-bottomed nonreactive saucepan. Heat slowly over low heat, stirring until the sugar dissolves and the butter melts.

Briefly whisk the eggs and egg yolks together in a bowl. Drizzle the hot lemon mixture into the eggs, whisking all the time, then scrape the contents of the bowl back into the saucepan and cook over low heat, constantly stirring and scraping the bottom of the pan, until the mixture thickens, about 5 minutes. Strain the curd through a fine-mesh sieve and pour, still warm, into the pre-baked tart shell. Spread evenly.

To make the blueberry topping, put 1 1/2 cups of the blueberries into a small saucepan with the sugar and water. Cook about 5 minutes over medium heat, stirring and smashing up the berries until they turn into thick jam. Fold the remaining 1 1/2 cups of blueberries into the jam, keeping them whole, and heat for about 30 seconds, just enough to warm them slightly. Spoon the blueberry topping evenly over the lemon curd in the tart shell. Let the tart cool for 30 minutes before slicing.

CHESS

The summer camp is a flexible program that has proven to be very successful in its first year. Chess players pay a fee of approximately $150 to bank 15 hours of chess time and instruction within a three-week session. The participants set their own schedule and the hours are tracked by Chess Utopia. The program offers playing time, game analysis, team chess and activities such as "blitz" chess.

Serrani said families have appreciated this on-going flexible schedule because so many of the chess players are involved in other activities. He said the fall schedule will operate in a similar way, with students setting their own schedules.

The focus of Chess Utopia is on individualized instruction. Participants are placed into groups based on their level of ability, from beginner to advanced players. The minimum age for Chess Utopia instruction is recommended at age 5, or starting kindergarten.

Staff at Chess Utopia includes both Frank and Cindy Swindell, Serrani, Patrick Lacey, and Dominick Pedzich. Lacey, of Round Lake, is a student at Carmel High School and is a top-rated chess player in the state.

Pedzich, a native of Poland, is an international chess master and represented Poland on its Olympic chess team for several years. He is a popular instructor for private lessons, but also offers semi-private and group lessons.

In addition to Chess Utopia, Swindell has worked with many area park districts, including Grayslake, Barrington, Libertyville and Vernon Hills. Swindell said his chess business has instructed more than 500 students in the past year.

Taking chess skills out of the classroom is another aspect of Chess Utopia. Swindell prepares players for the ins and outs of competitive playing, even if a student does not plan on competing.

"We don't push kids to compete. Some kids love it but others don't want to compete until they feel very ready or are sure they can win. But we want them all to know how to compete," said Swindell.

Lacey said tournament preparation is helpful for any chess player because it teaches chess etiquette and rules.

A chess tournament is not a typical family outing, said Lacey's dad, Charlie. "It's certainly not like going to a soccer game for your kid," he said. Parents and coaches are not allowed in the often vast competitive playing room, but can watch computerized boards indicating each move or can be found with noses pressed against glass windows to watch. One can also not predict how long a match may take. At official tournaments, a player can take as long as two hours simply to make a move. During that stretch, Lacey said some players might listen to music, read a book, or simply sit and strategize on their own play.

"It's not really much of a spectator sport, but the parents really do get into it. You are thrilled when your child does well, and you feel bad if they lose," said Charlie.

One aspect of chess that Swindell would like to see changed is a significant gender gap. He said there are about 30 males to every female chess player at the competitive level. In the national level, the top 100 ranked players are all males.

Neither Swindell or Serrani are chess competitors, which does not preclude them from being excellent coaches. Swindell said his chess instruction has produced several of the top ranked players in the state. "Not all great chess players are good teachers. Some just don't have the patience," said Serrani.

Lacey is one of the top players that has been coached through Chess Utopia. He said he first got interested in chess about five years ago through a club offered by the Round Lake Park District. Lacey soon learned he had a talent for the game, but Charlie said it was Frank Swindell who took his son's skills to a new level. Patrick is now doing so well in the chess circuit that he is even eyeing the possibility of getting a chess scholarship in college. "He's a chess maniac," said his dad. "He plays here, he teaches here, then he comes home and wants to play more."

For parents of avid chess players, Chess Utopia offers a place for them to compete with other players at their own level.

For information on Chess Utopia, call (847) 816-0869 or (847) 223-2360. Email the business at info@chessutopia.org or check the website at www.chessutopia.org.

Learn about family history with New genealogical index tool on-line

In a boon to genealogists, historians and researchers, Secretary of State Jesse White announced that his web site now contains an index listing of deaths in Illinois covering the years 1916 to 1950.

According to White, death certificates can contain valuable information to a researcher or genealogist, such as the deceased person's full name, date of death, marital status, birth date and birthplace, occupation and father and mother's name.

The State Archives has death records beginning in 1916, because that was the first year the state was mandated to keep such records. From 1877 to 1916, only county governments were responsible for keeping death records, so researchers seeking information about a death occurring during that time span would need to contact the clerk's office from the county an individual died in for information. Previous to 1877, death records were not maintained publicly.

check it out!

The new database keeps records only until 1950 because of a state law that requires at least a 50-year wait before death indexes can be made available to the public. The database is expected to be updated annually.

"This office has tried to make more information available on-line for researchers and genealogists," White said. "The database of Illinois death certificates is the 51st database that is now available on-line at the Archives home site. More than 8 million people visit this site each year."

Other databases available on-line include a statewide marriage index covering the years 1763 to 1900, lists of Illinois soldiers who fought in 19th century wars, and various county and city records.

Many of the records, such as the death certificate database, are merely lists that acknowledge a record exists. It is then up to the researcher to get a copy of the record, which can usually be done by mail.

White cautioned that in the case of death certificates, certain restrictions apply. Certificates will be provided only for persons who were 25 years old or older at the time of their deaths.

The database of Illinois death certificates can be found at the Secretary of State's home page or by going directly to www.cyberdriveillinois.com/departments/archives.idphdeathindex.html.

Journey through a dense blanket of clouds to the apex of the world's largest free-standing mountain in "Kilimanjaro: To the Roof of Africa" opening Friday, July 26 at the Humphrey IMAX Dome Theater, at the Milwaukee Public Museum, 800 W. Wells St. in Milwaukee.

Join six climbers—from a 13-year-old math wiz to a 64-year-old historian—as they climb 19,340 feet into the Tanzania air with guide Jacob Kyungai, veteran of more than 250 trips to the mountain's peak.

Cross five different climate zones—including rain-drenched tropical forest, alpine desert and arctic glaciers—to reach the peak of this snow-capped volcano, the largest on any continent. Explore the formation of the African continent and the Rift Valley. Learn about the mountain's delicate ecosystems. Observe its unique animal life, including the cape buffalo, black-and-white colobus monkey and the silvery-cheeked hornbill.

Kilimanjaro, which means "mountain of greatness," is so massive its weight depresses the earth's crust beneath it, a towering island of stone that arose 360,000 years ago. It was first successfully climbed in 1889.

Climb the top of Kilimanjaro

While it is no longer an active volcano, it spouted molten rock for millennia. Its last eruption, hundreds of years ago, carved its inner crater, one of the most perfectly symmetrical craters in the world.

"Kilimanjaro: To the Roof of Africa" was directed by David Breashears, director of "Everest," and is distributed by the Houston Museum of Science. For showtimes, group rates or to make reservations, call 414-278-IMAX (4629). Tickets are $6.75 for adults (18-59), $5.75 for seniors (60 plus) and $5.25 for children (3-17). Children two and under seated on an adult's lap are free.

Plucky, pint-sized hero Stuart Little (voiced by Michael J. Fox) delights audiences with more adventures.—Imageworks

For those few of you, like the two of us, who have not seen "SL 1," here's the deal. Stuart Little (voiced by Michael J. Fox) is a mouse. He lives in a bunk bed above 10-year-old George (Jonathan Lipnicki), in a household with his parents Mr. & Mrs. Little (Hugh Laurie and Geena Davis), their cat Snowbell (Nathan Lane) and a baby sister. Stuart the mouse goes to school with regular kids like George, so think of a film in which animals and people are on, uh, equal footing; they just look different.

Stuart's parents have different views on what he should do now that he is getting older. Dad thinks it's OK for him to play soccer while Mom is afraid he'll get hurt. And when you look at a mouse on the playing field with the pre-teen boys, getting hurt appears to be more a matter of "when" than "if."

Stuart has a convertible that he drives to school and one day, while cruising with the top down, a bird named Margalo (Melanie Griffith) falls into his front passenger seat after being chased by the movie's villainous falcon (voiced by James Woods). Stuart brings Margalo home and Snowbell becomes jealous.

As the story unfolds, Stuart finds his first love in Margalo but she is a free spirit who may have to fly south, at least for awhile. Different points of view in the family are addressed in a positive manner and Stuart learns to deal with his peers in school and how to combat evil as personified by the falcon.

George was pleasantly surprised by how well the integration of the animal characters worked with the live actors—and in a real-life setting such as Central Park in New York City. Melanie Griffith, James Woods and Nathan Lane bring considerable humor to the film in supporting roles.

"SL 2" is an example of why sequels are not necessarily bad. There is a lot of ink in the current press by critics on why sequels lack imagination and George disagrees somewhat. As guilty as he is of watching every version of "Law & Order" multiple times, the concept of seeing something familiar is not necessarily a bad thing. Pam's thought is that studio execs bank on proven formulas...forget originality.

If the story is fresh and takes you to a new place, sequels are OK, even though many of the people and the settings are essentially the same. It seems that recently, in the movies, the sequels have become prequels, and no longer offer the thrill that comes with the power of discovery.

The official tag line for the film is "Captain Pantoja and the Special Service," which refers to a secret mission of Peru's top military brass to send prostitutes for soldiers in remote areas. The intent is to lower the number of reported rapes and shotgun marriages. This could have been a tasteless tragic-comedy. We were wrong on both counts. Instead, the film is a comedy with serious dramatic social commentary that is well acted, directed and photographed. At various film festivals, the movie has won recognition as Best Picture, Director, Actor, Foreign Film and People's Choice Awards.

General Collazos (Gianfranco Brero) is alarmed at the number of reported rapes by his soldiers who guard remote border areas in Peru. Talk radio evangelist "El Sinchi" (Aristoteles Picho) is getting the townsfolk in one remote village riled up with his broadcasts and the General decides that having soldiers picked from a line-up to marry pregnant women is not the answer to the problem. He decides to enlist Captain Pantoja (Salvador del Solar) to run a secret mission of delivering prostitutes to satisfy his soldiers.

Pantoja is a soldier's soldier, a model of administrative efficiency who lives a clean life with his wife of five years. When the military does a background check they find that he far exceeds his missions, does not question authority, and gets into his job by trying to understand what he asks others to do. He does not drink, smoke or cheat on his wife.

Things are fine until Pantoja gets the details of his mission. He's ashamed to tell his wife Pochita (Monica Sanchez) what he's to do so he lies to her for the first time by saying he has an intelligence type of a mission. She accepts that without question, until he starts coming home in the wee small hours of the morning with the smell of beer on his breath. As part of his research to do a great job and keep things a secret, he studies various reported aphrodisiacs and is soon having sex with his wife three times a day. This is a good thing since they are trying to conceive a child.

Part of the lingo to pull off this mission under the eye of public scrutiny is that sites are beds, users are clients and renderings means having sex. The project is a rousing success and things are wonderful until Pochita finds out what her husband is doing while listening to a broadcast by Sinchi after he becomes angry regarding a failed blackmail attempt.

Pantoja becomes involved with one of his prostitutes, Colombiana (Angie Cepeda), and the line between job and family is crossed, causing consequences he never would have imagined. In the midst of comedy and farce, serious issues are raised relating to prostitution and political hypocrisy. This is not a film to bring kids to as an alternative to paying a baby-sitter, since most of the nudity is gratuitous. That said, it's a fun film for adults.

NEW RELEASES

New releases, currently playing at local theaters. More reviews of these and other films can be found under Current Movie Reviews and Future Films at www.reel-moviecritic.com.

Opening This Week

Austin Powers: Who cares about the plot as long as you know that Mike Myers is back as Austin Powers with plenty of gags and laughs? Beyonce Knowles (Destiny's Child) makes her big screen debut as Foxy Cleopatra.

Country Bears ★★1/2: Young fan Beary Barrington must convince the bitter ex-members of a rock band to set aside their differences and perform a benefit concert to save Country Bear Hall, the venue where the band got started. Christopher Walken is the villainous banker.

Tadpole ★: A 40-year-old soul trapped in a 15-year-old high school sophomore is in love with his stepmother (Sigourney Weaver) and has a one-night stand with her best friend (Bebe Neuwirth). Meant as enlightened entertainment, it may send the wrong message to young adults.

Still Playing

The Crocodile Hunter: Collision Course ★★: TV's Steve Irwin blends his crusade for wildlife into a film with a spy plot containing amazing documentary footage, which conveys the message that everything in nature should be valued. Somehow, I still want to swat the fly that's been buzzing around my office for the past three days!

Road to Perdition ★★1/2: A boy is on the run with his father after his former "godfather" decides that they must be killed because they aren't trusted to keep their knowledge of a murder a secret. Father and son bond and lessons are learned in a manner more timely for the son than the father. Starring Tom Hanks & Paul Newman.

Storytellers gather in Spring Grove for festival fun

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The Spring Grove Storytelling Festival will return for the 19th time at the village's Horse Fair Park.

The events will be July 27 and 28 in Spring Grove. Hours will be from 9 a.m.-midnight on July 27 and 10 a.m.-6 p.m. on July 28. There is an admission charge for this event.

"It's a big thing. We annually get 3,000 people. If you ask 100 different people, you will get 100 different feelings," said Karen Wollscheid, business manager for Spring Grove Storytelling Festival, run by Illinois Storytelling.

The ever-popular Ghost Stories are back at 9 p.m. July 27, and a Saturday Night Cabaret will be offered. There will also be a square dance session.

Two workshops on storytelling will be presented on July 27 from 9-11 a.m. at St. Peter's Church, located just south of festival grounds. One will be by Syd Lieberman, "How to Get through February: Keep Eyes Open for Bees Flying in the Classroom." Lieberman will help students and teachers get through the frozen tundra of the school year, when the holidays are over and spring break is far away. He is a 1986 Golden Apple award winner. He retired in 2000 after 30 years in the classroom. Cost for this workshop is $35.

Elizabeth Ellis and Loren Niemi will present the second workshop, "Inviting the Wolf in: The Difficult Storytelling Workshop." Ellis and Niemi look at what stories have been avoided and why. The workshop is a combination of lecture demonstration, small group and individual exercises in choosing, shaping and telling difficult stories. Cost for this workshop is $45.

The storytelling tents grounds open about 12 p.m. on July 27. The grounds are divided into various themed tents. These include: family tent, adult's tent, children's tent, traditions tent and swapping ground.

Showcase storytellers are Linda Gorham and Patricia Hruby-Powell. Tradition tents will include Holocaust Survivors, Memory Makers Storytelling Club, elders and youth storytellers.

For more information, call Illinois Storytelling, Inc.'s McHenry office at 815-344-0181; web site www.storytelling.org or e-mail, info@storytelling.org.

Emma Prosser benefit coming up

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

A miracle, lots of love from friends and strangers, and maybe even some angels have been credited with helping Emma Prosser, 9, of Round Lake Beach recover from a serious injury.

Prosser

Prosser was struck by a truck while riding her bicycle on Clarendon Drive in Round Lake Beach on May 19, and according to reports flew 30 feet in the air before landing.

Miraculously she suffered no broken bones and had no internal bleeding but she did suffer a brain injury and collapsed lung.

"The response has been overwhelming," said her mother Rhonda Prosser. "It's truly amazing what an incredible difference a smile, a good thought, a prayer and a heart-felt hug can do."

She added, "Everybody has been wonderful from the ambulance driver to the doctors. It's like she has been surrounded by a fleet of angels."

In order to help her family pay for mounting medical bills there will be a benefit for her on July 28 at 2 p.m. at the American Legion Post 1170 located at 111 E. Main St. in Round Lake Park.

There will be a $10 donation asked for, with kids under 12 getting in free with a canned goods donation.

Contributions are also being accepted at the First State Bank of Round Lake Beach. The account number is 64687-7.

"She is going through therapy three days a week for eight hours a day," said Zblewski. "It's unbelievable how well she is doing."

Prosser will be undergoing more neurological tests in August to see how much brain damage has occurred.

Her family remains optimistic that she will make a full recovery.

Niles West students produce 'The Wiz'

Josh Solomon and Sam Rosen (seniors at Niles West High School) are producing "The Wiz," adapted from "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz" by L. Frank Baum, with Marillac Social Center. Solomon and Rosen have put together a crew of 40 local high school and college students to teach students ranging from grades K-12 on how to run and put together all aspects of professional level theater. The play has no funding, therefore it relies on donations of any kind.

The show will run Wednesday, July 29 at 1 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 1 at 1 and 6 p.m., and Friday, Aug. 2 at 6 p.m. in the Nancy B. Jefferson Auditorium at Calhoun Middle School in Chicago.

For additional information contact Sam Rosen at 847-674-6172.

Volunteers needed for Kids Health Fair

The Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center and the Lake County League of Women Voters are putting out "an all points bulletin" for doctors (pediatricians), nurses and clerical staff for the Kids 1st Health Fair. The event is scheduled to take place on Wednesday, Aug. 7, at Waukegan High School in Waukegan, from 9 a.m.-7 p.m. to help low-income kids receive the medical services needed to start school on time.

This year, school nurses and health aides are particularly needed. Pediatricians also are needed particularly between 3:45-8:00 p.m.

To volunteer, call Sharon Doney at the Health Department at 847-377-8103.

Stinky situation at Bangs Lake

Wauconda—Officials believe that they took as fast as action as possible when dealing with weather conditions leading to excessive algae. Residents near a channel known as Circle Channel area off Bangs Lake alerted village officials to a stench on July 18. Hot, humid weather without any sign of rain increased the foul odors. Breezy, cool weather returned mid-week, possibly improving the situation. The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) visited the site, as well as Lake County Health Department (LCHD).

2-car crash kills boys

Lake Villa Twp—On July 19, at 7:20 p.m., Jan Rodrigo Legaspi-Buduan, 16, of Lindenhurst, was driving a 1999 black Honda Prelude on Gelden Road near Grass Lake Road. At his side was friend Alex Brown, 15, of Lake Villa. According to Lake County Sheriff's reports, the Honda collided with another car in what may have been a drag racing incident. The Honda hit a utility pole. Both boys were pronounced dead at the scene. The second driver is still being sought.

All-American, ex-Olympian win race

Grayslake—Arturo Hernandez of Vernon Hills, an All-American runner for the College of Lake County Cross Country team and Jenny Spangler of Gurnee, an Olympic marathoner in 1996, took first in the men's and women's groups respectively at the 11th Annual Grayslake Chamber of Commerce 5K Road Race Walk and Family Fun Run.

County balks at using vacant store for court

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

After several months of "exploration," officials in Lake County now believe Lindenhurst may not be the best site for a new Lake County branch court.

Since April, the county has been investigating the feasibility of using a former Eagle supermarket on Grand Avenue (Route 132) near Lindenhurst Blvd. instead of constructing a new building.

The idea was reconsidered when the study determined that the cost of renovation and rehabilitation of the property would approach $5 million. Leasing and financing costs are not

Development at Midlane lies in flood plain

By STEVE SKINNER
Staff Reporter

After a report last month in Lakeland newspapers detailing a response from Midlane officials to neighbor complaints from a proposed 409-unit development at Midlane, neighbors wanted to present Lakeland with more information. A Maple Tree lane resident, who wishes to remain anonymous, informed Lakeland of the possibility that 3 of the proposed apartment building for the new "Links" development would be built in the Des Plaines River flood plain.

Lakeland has received a copy of drawings of the proposed development as well as the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM), which is cited on the development drawings. The FIRM map depicts the line of the flood plain, based upon elevation, from the Des Plaines River.

Lakeland has scaled the FIRM map, as well as the map of the proposed development and superimposed the two together (see illustration). The results show that three of

Corporation buys naming rights for football stadium

By MARC JENKINS
News Editor

In an unprecedented move, at least locally, Rust-Oleum Corporation agreed to give $100,000 to Vernon Hills High School for construction of its football stadium, which will in turn be named after the paint company.

Rust-Oleum Field will be the home of the Cougars this fall, after construction of a 2,000-seat stadium is completed at the former Nike missile site on the village's east side.

The field is slated to open officially on Oct. 4, at the school's homecoming football game, the first game to be held there after the school used Libertyville High School as its home field for the two years the school has had a football team.

While the merger between the District 128 school (which is also in the same district as Libertyville High) is one that is unheard of at the high school level.

Subdivision asks courts to define issue

Green Oaks—A lawsuit by some residents of a 55-year-old Green Oaks subdivision seeks relief from the Lake County Circuit Court to validate its lot-measuring methods and its covenants. The bottom line for homeowners is to preserve the smaller-sized homes on large lots, and the diversified, rural estate nature of the neighborhood. The suit was filed in circuit court on July 12, on behalf of the Fairwell Estates Homeowner's Association. The association's attorney, Ted Bond Jr. filed the suit.

Antioch—Complying with its portion of the non-binding agreement for settlement, the Lake County Forest Preserve District has entered into a contract with Neumann Homes to purchase about 180 acres of property for preservation. The most sensitive areas of the 634 acres that Neumann Homes had proposed to become Clublands of Antioch will go to the Forest Preserve District. The property is to be sold at the developer's cost, better than $5 million.

New 120-bed hospital is official

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

At a regular meeting of the Lindenhurst Board of Trustees, Vista, which incorporates Provena St. Therese Medical Center, Victory Memorial Hospital, Vista Surgery and Treatment Center and Vista MR Institute, presented a new vision of health care in Lake County, as it will be in the year 2005.

The new hospital, which will wrap around the existing outpatient surgery and treatment center now at the Grand Avenue and Deep Lake Road site, will feature single-bed rooms, all facing a lake and open wetlands.

The new 120-bed hospital is expected to cost $115 million. It will have the capability of adding another 50 beds without further construction. The proposed full-service hospital will offer an emergency room, pediatrics, obstetrics and diagnostic services.

The plan includes a professional office building, where doctors' offices will be housed just steps away from the hospital entrance.

The existing 60-acre Victory Lakes campus now also houses a 120-bed nursing home.

The architect's hospital model features a 10-story tower topped by a helipad, wrapping around the existing Vista (outpatient) Surgery and Treatment Center.—Courtesy of Legat Architects

Other senior care services on the property include 60-units for assisted living and a retirement community of 100 apartments and 40 townhomes.

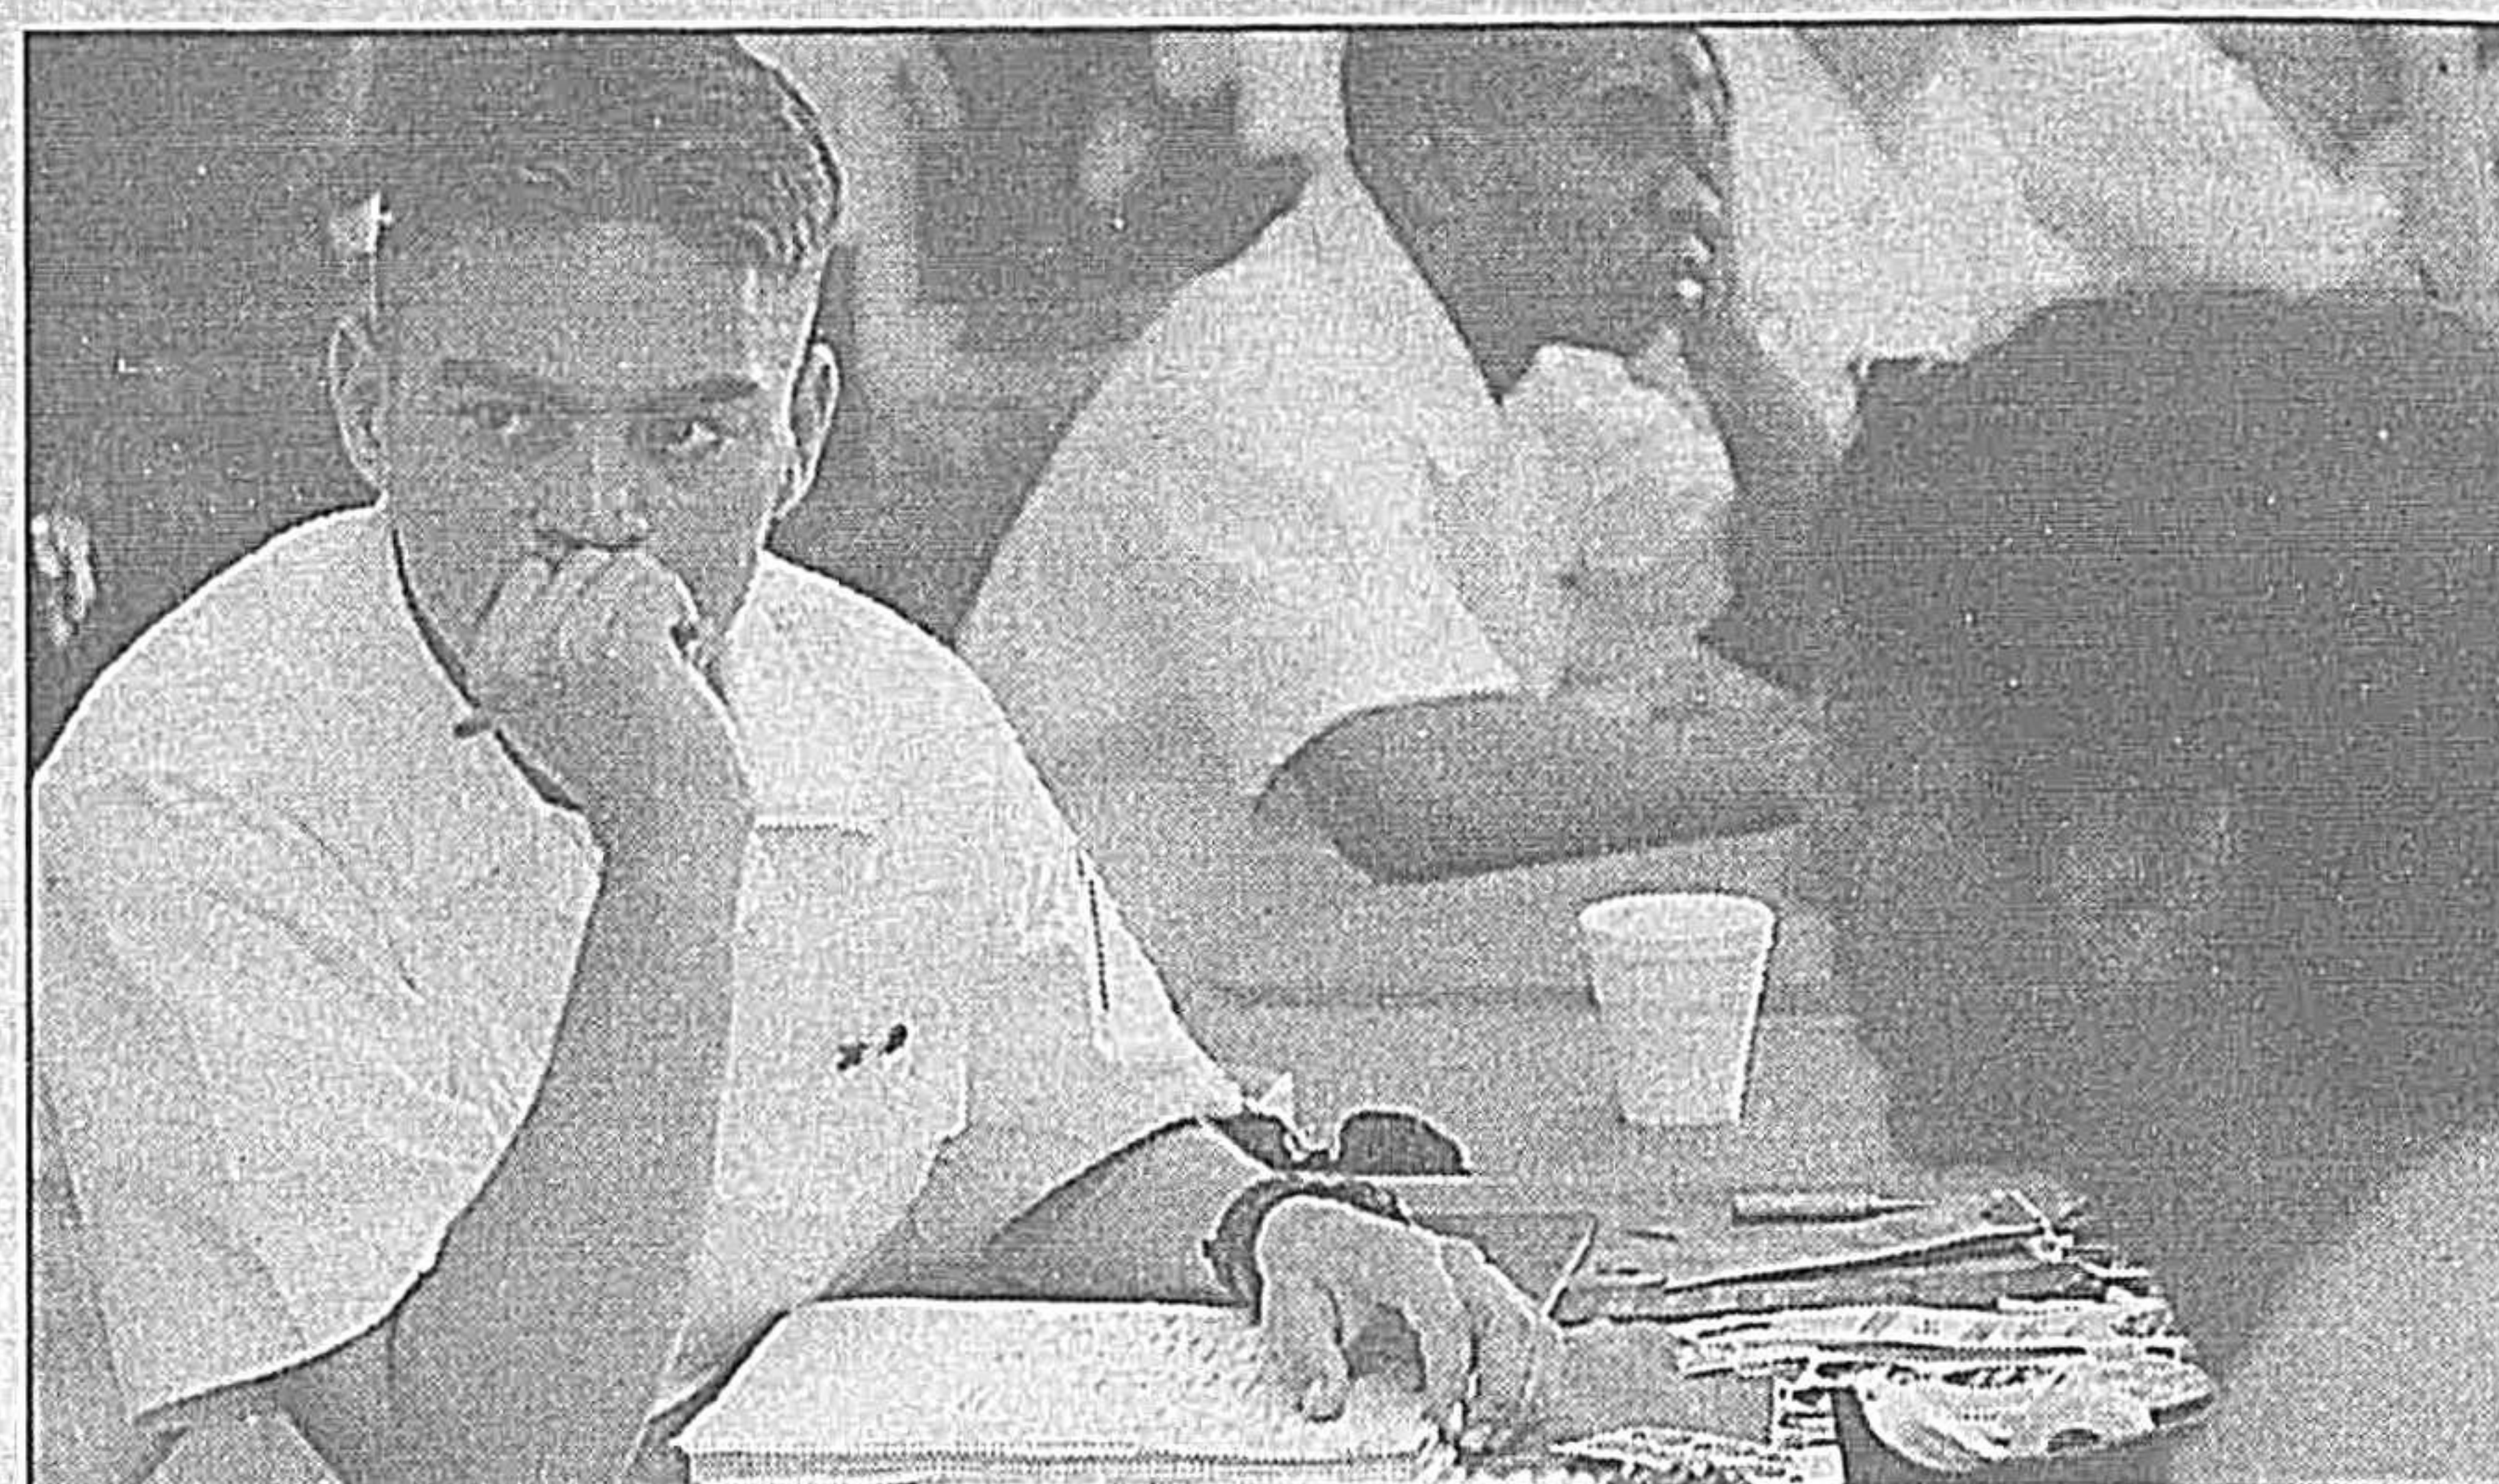

The new hospital is planned as Victory Hospital, in Waukegan, is on the verge of closing its doors.

Vista's two Waukegan hospitals will be merged in the St. Therese complex, with Victory Hospital going up for sale. Each hospital is currently licensed to hold 300 beds, but Tim Harrington, President and CEO of Vista Healthcare, said neither is operated at that capacity.

Based on population growth, projected population growth and need for accessibility, placing the hospital in the west makes sense to Vista.

"If you (in Lake Villa Township) need a hospital now, the trip takes at least 30 minutes to St. Therese," said Harrington. He pointed out the trip to Condell Hospital in Libertyville could take even longer.

"We are consolidating," Harrington explained. "Instead of two underutilized facilities we will have one strong facility out there (Waukegan) and one strong one here (in Lindenhurst)."

Fair weather fares well for fair

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Staff Reporter

After a long run of hot, humid weather, the Lake County Fair opened Tuesday, July 23, beneath sunny skies, with dry, moderate temperatures.

Officially, 17,931 people attended the first day of the six-day fair, running through Sunday night at the Lake County Fairgrounds, at Routes 45 and 120 in Grayslake.

Lake County Fair Association officials had projected a six-day attendance of over 200,000.

The July 26-28 weekend schedule has the fairgrounds opening at 8 a.m. Friday and Saturday, with the Midway opening at noon, and everything closing down by 11 p.m. On Sunday, the fair opens at 10 a.m. and closes at 10 p.m.

General admission is $7 per day; children 12 and under are free and seniors, 65 and over, are $3. A season's pass is $25.

At the heavily attended Miss Lake County Fair pageant Tuesday night, Jessica Marro, Miss Lake Villa 2002, was crowned queen.

First runnerup was Whitney Sehmer, Miss Lindenhurst 2001. Sehmer's older sister, Kacy, was the county fair queen in 1998.

Veteran fairgoers noticed some new wrinkles to the 148th running of a county fair (in one form or another), including a first-time visit by the world-famous Budweiser Clydesdales from the brewery's headquarters in St. Louis.

The eight-horse hitch will "parade" each day at 6:30 p.m. at the monster truck demonstration area. The fair has a new, professional rodeo this year. Barnes PRCA rodeo, featuring bull riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and more, will have shows at 8 p.m. on Friday, and 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Saturday.

The public will notice many vendors who've come to the fair, now in its 48th year in Grayslake, for several decades.

Fair food never seems to change, but some of the old standbys, like elephant ears, are less recognizable if one is simply looking for the traditional, deep fried flour confection, shaped like a dinner plate, covered with cinnamon or powdered sugar.

Random stop nets 40+ pounds of pot

A routine traffic stop led to the arrest of Iladimar Sotelo, 29, of Waukegan, who was driving north on I-94 near Route 176, when police pulled him over after his license plate came back registered to another vehicle.

With suspicion of Sotelo's 1991 Pontiac Sunbird containing cannabis, they received his written permission to search his car.

Two boxes in the trunk were found five bricks—weighing a combined 43 pounds—of a green, leafy substance which field-tested positive for cannabis, with a street value of $156,000, Lake County Police Chief Fred Heidecke said.

Sotelo was charged with a Class X and a Class 1 felony, related to the manufacture and possession of such a quantity of the substance. He remains in Lake County Jail on a $750,000 bond.—By Marc Jenkins

Ryan's rescue— vigorous debates

As the campaign rhetoric keeps grinding away in the Illinois race for governor, not much is being said about how Congressman Rod Blagojevich fashioned his victory for the Democratic nomination. The scary thing is that he could be following the same formula to win election in November.

Blagojevich wouldn't be the first politician to go far with minimum skills. In the primary, he displayed the ability to take orders and stay on message to eke out a victory over the gifted Paul Vallas and turn away perennial candidate Roland Burris. The shock-haired Democrat ran two campaigns, one for downstate and one for the metropolitan area.

It's time to take note how the deceptively simple strategy fits for what's unfolding now for the Democratic nominee. He has two foes again, Atty. Gen. Jim Ryan—the reliable public servant and Republican nominee, and Cal Skinner—gadfly and policy wonk, who will be running as the Libertarian candidate.

Blagojevich already has jumped out to a front-running position in two important categories—opinion polls and fund raising—with-out saying a whole lot about how he's going to solve pressing issues of our times—fiscal problems, ethics in government, improving education and health care for the elderly.

Republican strategists are wringing their hands and tearing out their hair over ways to shake loose of scandal-burdened Gov. George Ryan and get candidate Ryan on track. It may be as elementary as getting the GOP team to come out swinging against the weakest Democratic team within memory. It shouldn't be overlooked that Rod Blah Blah is teamed with the state's prime mischief maker of the last 25 years, Patrick Quinn, the lieutenant governor nominee who once again is foisting himself on his party and the public.

If Jim Ryan, a good and reliable attorney general who has displayed remarkable courage in his personal life, and the GOP team made up of demonstrated able public office holders can't shake Blagojevich-Quinn, then maybe it is time for a change. Political cynics see different faces as the biggest thing Democrats can offer to a growing cynical electorate.

Jim Ryan should debate Rod Blagojevich as many times as possible. As a cabinet member, the attorney general can showcase his knowledge of state government. By making his case for a new look in Springfield, Jim Ryan can erase the old look of the other Ryan that Blagojevich keeps reminding voters about.

Electors deserve to see the candidates in a television face-off. We're convinced Jim Ryan can win that test and win the election as well. He has to come out swinging and put his Democratic opponent back on his heels.

Partners foster environmentalism

A number of stories, all positive, are converging to form a chronicle of cooperation unheard of today—collaboration between private industry, private business, government and the citizenry.

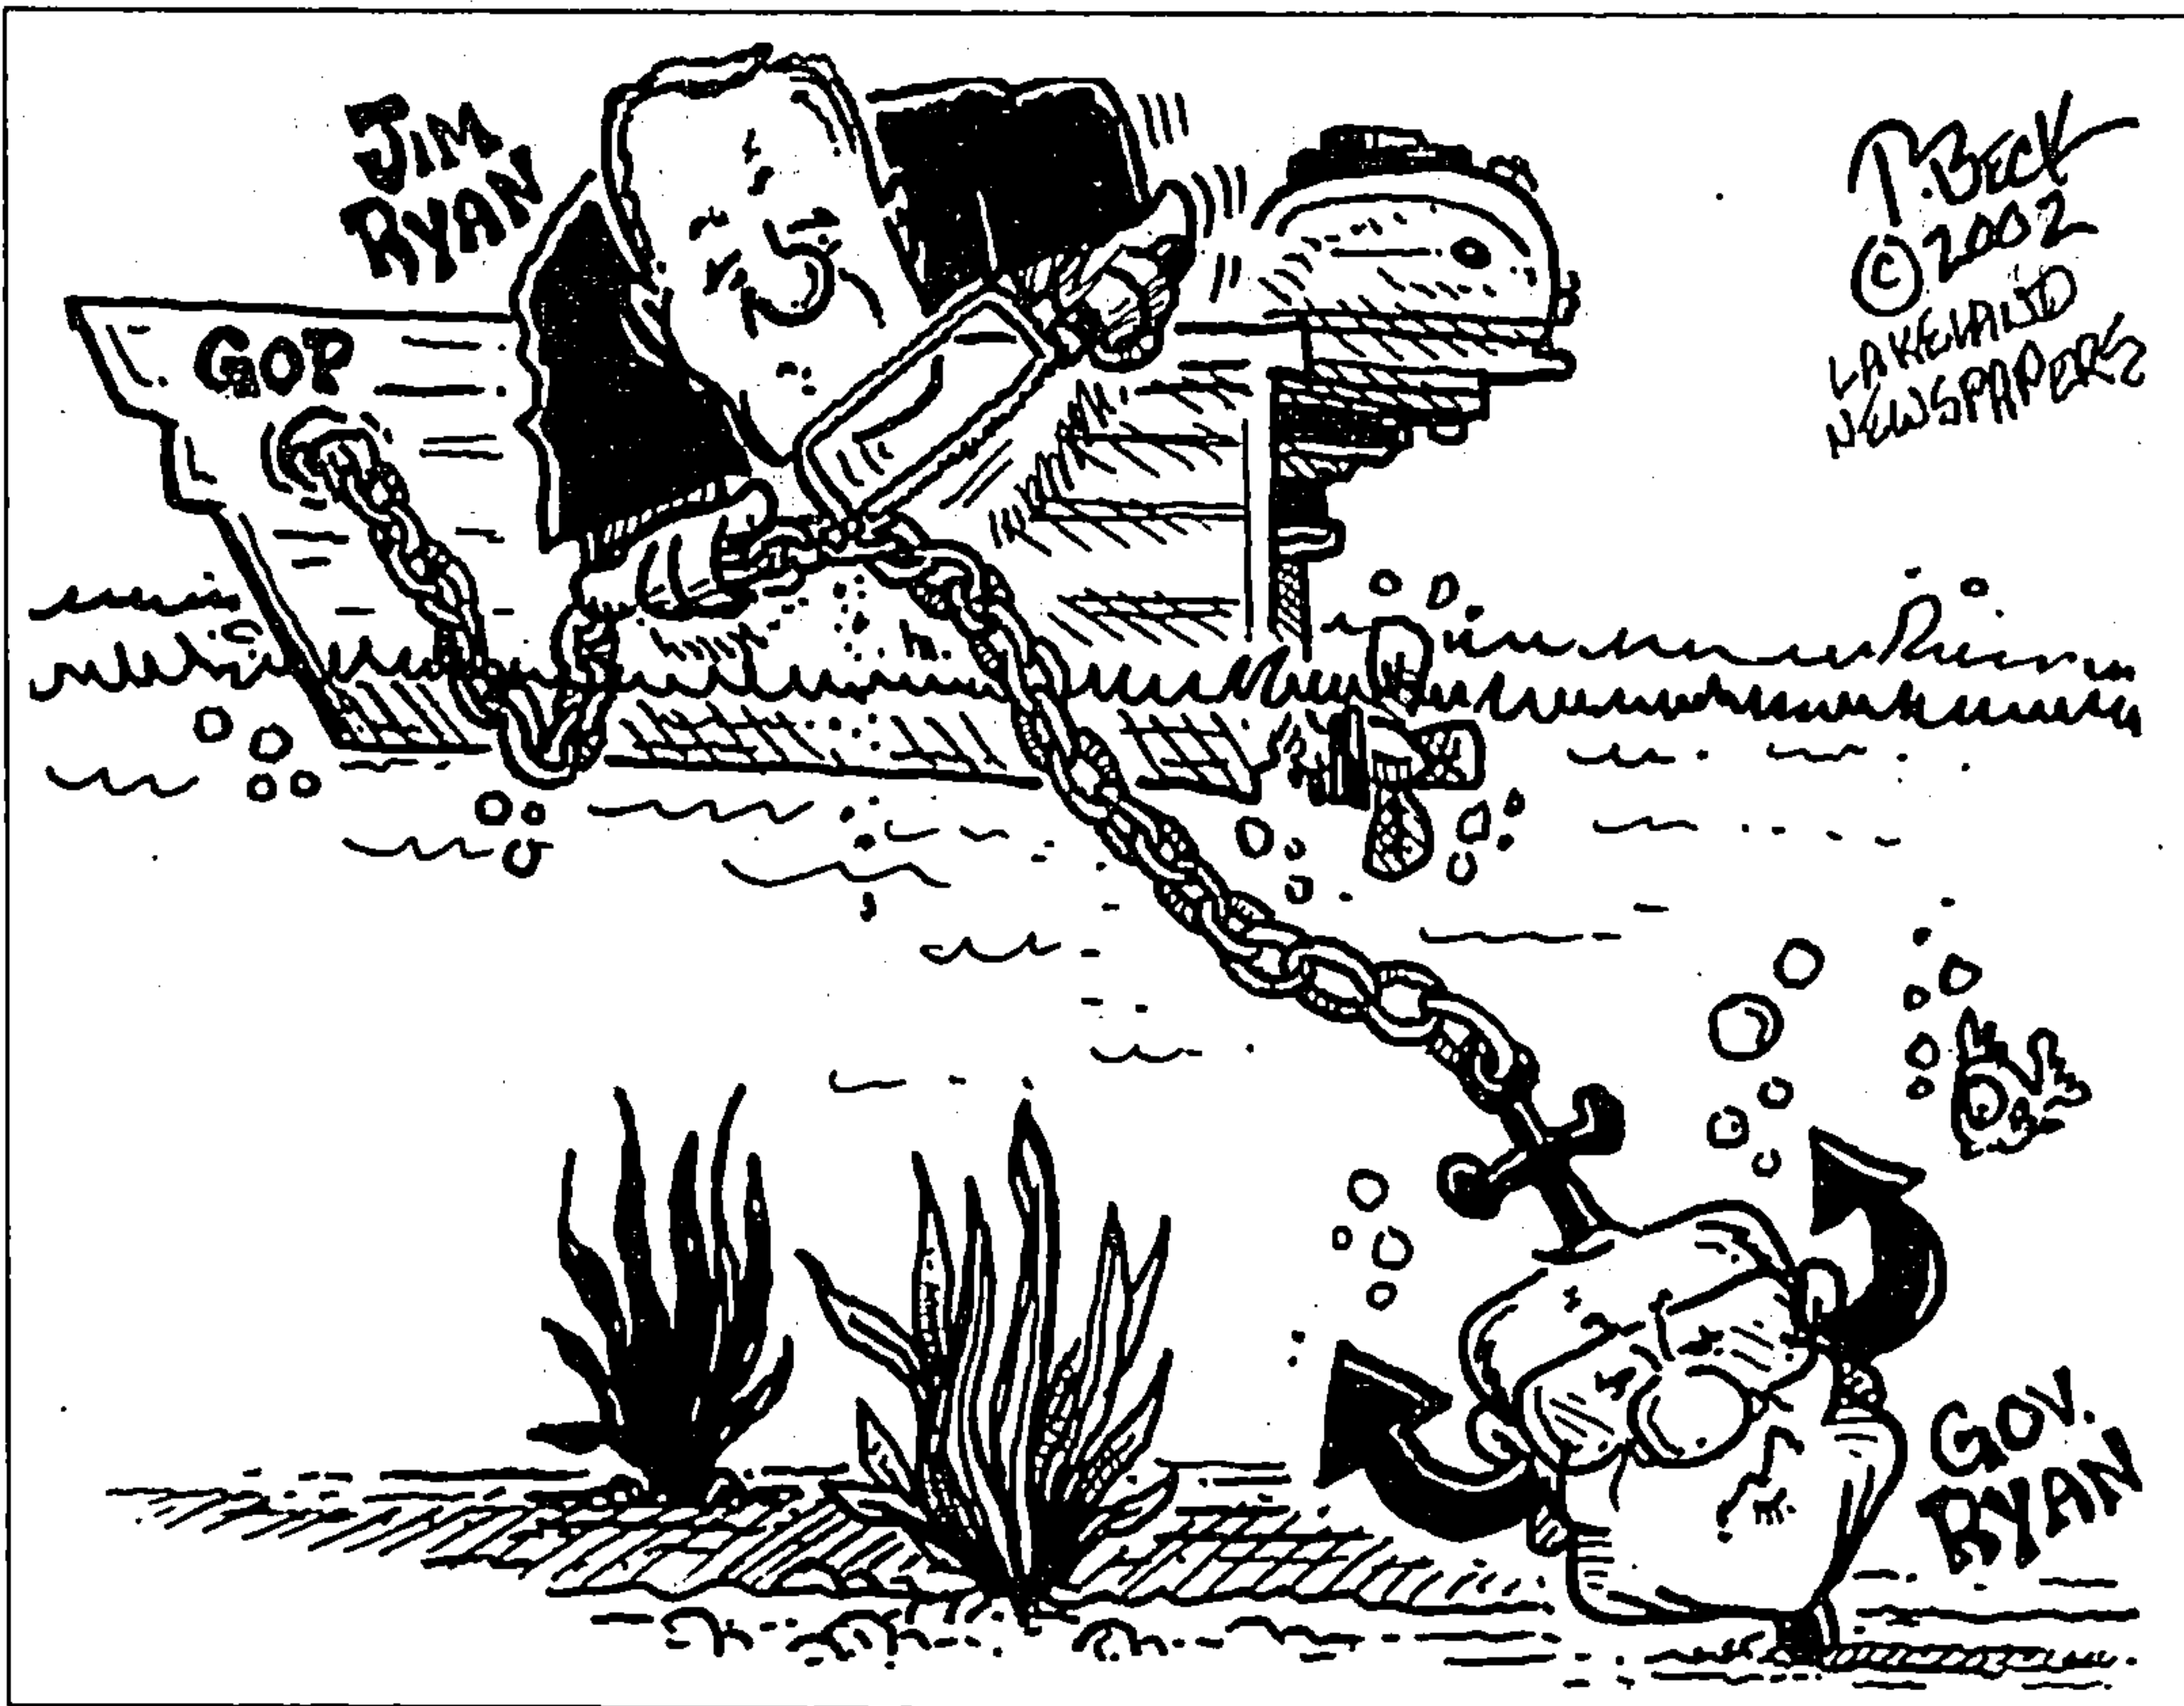

That's why a project to reuse treated wastewater to irrigate nursery stock is noteworthy.

The industry is Baxter Healthcare's Round Lake campus and the business is Synnvestedt Company, a prominent North Shore landscaper growing nursery stock near the plant in west Lake County. Baxter is leasing 185 acres to Synnvestedt for expansion of the nursery. Baxter's treated wastewater will be used for irrigation.

The background of this novel environmental partnership is more interesting than the project itself. Two years ago Baxter came under fire from residents of Long Lake, a recreational lake which is the confluence of the Squaw Creek watershed, for alleged pollution of the lake with wastewater the company was discharging into a tributary.

County Board members and officials of the Lake County Health Dept. organized public meetings to air both sides of the sensitive issue. Meetings were monitored by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. Evidence was offered that while Baxter was not introducing toxins into the receiving stream, there were sufficient nutrients in the wastewater to create water quality problems for Long Lake, a 340 acre body of water connected to the Chain O' Lakes.

The irrigation project is one of the solutions worked out to permit Baxter to continue on-site wastewater treatment. Political leaders, company officials and representatives of the public hailed the project as enlightened environmentalism at a symbolic tree planting July 18. We join in the applause for the partnership that benefits all sides and look forward to reporting similar ventures in the future. Cooperation in the public sector is a beautiful thing.

VIEWPOINT

Doom, boom for telemarketing?

All across the land at the federal and state level, including our community, there is a hew and cry (professional hewsters and chronic crybabies) to reign in telemarketers through the establishment of a national DNC (Do Not Call) registry.

The FTC is being pressured to change the current Telemarketing Sales rule to establish a registry where consumers could eliminate most telemarketing calls by calling a toll-free FTC number to be placed on the list. It would be illegal for telemarketers to make calls to numbers on the list. Some suggested fines for violations run into the thousands of dollars.

AARP (American Association of Retired Persons) is one of the interest groups leading the attack. State Rep. Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest) is among Illinois legislators attempting to put a gag on telemarketers.

Lawmakers and public interest groups find especially onerous the practice of telemarketers sharing credit card information. Reform proposals include requiring phone solicitors to "scrub" their lists regularly to keep DNC lists up to date.

Pretty heady stuff for folks who get all churned up when a sales call interrupts the evening meal or breaks into television watching.

What's at stake, though, is regulation of a huge industry where thousands of persons are employed who generate billions of dollars in sales. Even as obnoxious as some telemarketing calls are, unsolicited calling continues because it works. Telemarketing gets results.

Corraling the telemarketers could be a case where unintended consequences comes into play. Wouldn't it be something if new rules made telemarketing even more successful. For example, DNC requirements might open up telemarketing for more focused (sales producing calls). Telemarketing would proliferate, much like the use of junk mail has. Try and take your address off an advertising mail list.

Involving the FTC is another example of getting the government involved further in our daily lives and commerce. There are ways of dealing with annoying phone calls from sales persons. Don't answer your phone. Take the phone off the hook. Use caller ID (more business for the phone company). Just say "no."

The soft underbelly of the DNC movement might be that a majority of citizens wouldn't want to miss out on a good deal if there was a crackdown on telemarketing. Think of it this way. It's sort of like playing the lottery.

Vocal freshman

State Rep. Sue Simpson (R-Wildwood), an interim appointee, belied the old Illinois General Assembly precept that freshman legislators "are to be seen and not heard." Simpson, filling out the term of Andrea Moore, pushed through legislation tightening controls over businesses offering kidney dialysis. "I couldn't believe that uncontrolled dialysis businesses were operating. There were over a 100 such operations in the state." Under the Simpson Bill, dozens of businesses serving people with kidney disorders are being forced "to clean up their act." Literally, says Simpson. "I ran across operators with bloody residue on the floor and filthy equipment. Conditions were unbelievable." Simpson, who also is supervisor of Warren Township (Gurnee), will serve until Dec. 31. Simpson said her biggest surprise as a beginning legislator was experiencing the power in Springfield of political lobbies. "Awesome."

Ship ahoy!

Jack Potter, real estate broker and political activist, is keeping alive the idea of bringing an American fighting ship to Waukegan or North Chicago as a floating museum on the shore of Lake Michigan. There are plenty of ships in the Navy's mothball fleet available for relocation. Cost of relocation would be about $2.5 million. Approximately $1 million for transport and $1.5 million for port infrastructure. "That's just for starters," declared Potter. Milwaukee has been working on a warship museum for 2 1/2 years and has more than two years to go. What's it going to be? Battleship? Heavy cruiser? Light cruiser? Destroyer? Maybe a frigate?

Free air time worthy reform

By Kathy Ryg

As a voter and taxpayer, local elected official and candidate for State Representative, I know all too well that our political and campaign system is in desperate need of reform.

To learn more about the options for innovative ideas to address this issue, I attended a public forum featuring former U.S. Senator Paul Simon and Paul Taylor, President of the Alliance for Better Campaigns, sponsored by the Illinois Campaign for Political Reform. The ICPR is a non-partisan, non-profit organization working to reform campaign finance and ethics laws in Illinois.

At the forum, I learned some amazing facts:

1. We - the public, own the nation's airwaves used to broadcast television and radio signals!
2. While the federal government requires licenses for broadcasters, there is no fee for the license. Stations get access to public airwaves for free.
3. Television ads are the biggest reason campaigns cost so much. Ad rates actually increase closer to Election Day. In the 2000 campaign the major Chicago stations profited in the amount of $14,458,859 from

Hoselton backs Fagan for sheriff, says politics shouldn't be part of office

Charles "Chuck" Fagan, Democratic nominee for sheriff in the November general election, picked up the first mayoral endorsement. Wadsworth Mayor Evelyn Marie Hoselton, a Republican, said she is backing Fagan because she is "tired of politics in the sheriff's office." Hoselton has a reputation for outspokenness.

Fagan could pick up additional GOP support with a family background including Republican involvement in Shields Township politics. Fagan is a former deputy sheriff.

Liquor question

Mundelein officials are proceeding cautiously on the request of a Gurnee resident for a liquor license to reopen a shuttered liquor store. They are concerned that the applicant wants to advertise the establishment as a convenience store. "I don't want to open Pandora's box," remarked Mayor Marilyn Sindles.

Possible candidate

Waukegan City Clerk Wayne Motley could be a candidate for mayor in the short term election in 2003 resulting from the untimely death of Mayor Dan Drew. Motley was a running mate of the late Democrat and could be persuaded to enter the contest to fill out the unexpired term. A wide-open field is expected to develop for the special election next spring. Motley served 26 years on the Waukegan Police Department before entering elective politics.

Reserve the date

Republican faithful are being asked to reserve Sunday, Aug. 25, for the annual GOP Central Committee picnic. This year's gathering will be held at Independence Grove Forest Preserve, Libertyville. The picnic is a tradition going back 60 years to the days when gentlemen and politicians wore sailor straw hats.

Barrier breaker

State Rep. Beth Coulson (R-Glenview) is breaking the $500 barrier for golf fund raisers for the second annual "Coulson Classic" Wednesday, Aug. 14. Tickets are $525 per person for a day's outing at the Glen Club in Glenview. Carla Schull can take reservations at 312-372-0777.

Lengthy service

Charles J. Lucas, vice chairman of the Lake County Regional Planning Commission, continues to add his skein of public service which dates back to the 1960s as a Grayslake village trustee. Lucas represents Grayslake and Avon Township

New Demo group

A newly organized Democratic coalition representing all parts of the Round Lake area, called Democratic Organization of Round Lake (DOOR), will sponsor a Candidate's Night forum Saturday, Aug. 3. The new organization is being spearheaded by Round Lake Mayor Bill Gentes.

Teachers golf

State Rep. Tim Osmond's golf outing in Zion was a sell out with the help of a solid delegation of teachers. Osmond has become a Republican "bridge" to the solidly Democratic Illinois Education Assn., one of the strongest unions in Illinois. Osmond's reputation as an expert on educational matters continues to grow.

Ritzy men's club excludes women

The Augusta National Golf Club, down in Georgia, is a slice of heaven. Every April it is the home of the famous Masters tournament, but except for that event Augusta National never pokes its nose into the news.

It is very exclusive. All of its members are wealthy and probably important. President Eisenhower had a cottage on the course.

And all of the club's members are men. Ever since it was built some 70 years ago, no women have been invited to join.

All men, no women? Is there anything wrong with that?

The spokes people for the National Council of Women's Organizations think so. They have asked Augusta National to review its membership policies to allow women members.

Martha Burk, the council's chairwoman, requested a meeting with Augusta National's chairman, William "Hootie" Johnson.

That went over like a lead balloon. Hootie responded like this: "Our club is a distinctively private one and we cannot talk about its membership and practices with those outside the organization. Any further communication between us would not be productive."

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

Hootie also said his club would not be "bullied" into admitting anyone.

The National Council of Women's Organizations is a network of more than 100 women's clubs which together represent more than 6 million members.

I don't know how many of the 6 million give a hoot (or a Hootie, for that matter) about getting a few token women into Augusta National. Most probably they are in the network for schmoozing purposes. And for those who need a life, there must be more important causes.

I couldn't get into Augusta National either. We golf enthusiasts can't even get tickets for the great April tournament; it is a complete sellout for years to come.

Anyway, as Groucho Marx said, "I wouldn't want to belong to a club that would accept me as a member."

Why would anyone want to crash a party where they weren't welcome? I think that old sage Confucius said it best: "Where you are wanted a lot, go a little. Where you are wanted a little, don't go at all."

The women's network has tried to drag golf star and Masters champion Tiger Woods into the fray. Said Martha Burk, "He has an obligation to take a stand for women."

As a golfer, young Tiger no doubt has great reverence for August National. "They're entitled to set up their own rules the way they want them," he said. "It's simply a fact of life that some private clubs will exclude certain groups."

If the leaders of the women's network are frustrated because they can't infiltrate Augusta National, I feel their pain. I long have wanted to join the Radio City Rockettes, the famous high-kicking dance troupe.

They're fussy. A dancer must be at least 18 years old. I'm at least that.

Dancers must be between 5-foot-6 and 5-foot-9. Well, I'm 5-foot-11 but there still is hope. As I age, I'm shrinking. I used to be 6-foot even.

Should I ever somehow get to dance with the all-female Rockettes, you can spot me. I'll be the one in the Bermuda shorts and baseball cap.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Clear the lake

At the July 15th meeting of the Antioch Village Board some of the trustees and staff members questioned why the public should be allowed to give input into the collection of data regarding the proposed mega-development of Great Lakes Principals at Route 173 and Deep Lake Road. Do they really think the developer and his consultants are not going to skew their data in their own favor? When have these folks ever seen that not happen? Maybe we should give them some reasons to consider. How about:

We operate in a democratic republic where elected officials and their staffs are mandated to implement the will of the people. They are elected to serve, not rule.

Some of the trustees and staff are in over their heads in trying to deal with a development proposal of this magnitude and principals with as much money. Influence and experience as these.

Many of the people offering assistance and information are highly qualified, educated and intelligent and have valuable information and advice to offer. These are people who truly care about their community.

Maybe it's just the right thing to do.

It's difficult to accept that any elected official would prefer to make a decision on such an important issue without having all the facts. How could anyone expect to adequately serve their community if they are willing to operate from a level of ignorance. It's easy to conclude that no one wants that to happen. So let's get all of it on the table and find out what we really are in store for before we make an irreversible mistake.

Letters serve purpose

I have thoroughly read each letter regarding Sheriff Gary Del Re, and having never met him, I have learned about him from news stories and letters.

One writer claims all prior letters regarding Gary Del Re are nothing but a smear campaign against him. Frankly, she is right about one thing. She said the citizens of Lake County are intelligent enough to cast their votes based on a candidate's record.

I have learned through the letters to the editor and news articles that Gary Del Re's record is one of complaining about an inadequate pay raise, campaigning on company time and intimidating business owners for campaign contributions. As these facts continue to come out, I'm sure about one thing. His is a record I choose not to support.

Caring youth

Recent news articles have chronicled the financial struggles of the Round Lake High School District, as well as the district's challenge in filling numerous open teaching positions (an issue many districts face). As executive director of A Safe Place, the non-profit agency providing comprehensive services to battered women and their children throughout Lake County, I wanted to share some news about the students at Round Lake High School.

A Safe Place's relationship with students in this community began several years ago when our Prevention Education program brought the one-woman production of "The Yellow Dress," a story about dating violence and forming healthy relationships, to the high schools of Lake County. The agency continues to provide interactive, two-day prevention education programs in classrooms through the county to middle schools and high schools throughout the school year.

Recently we were visited at our shelter by Round Lake High School students, recent graduates who quite rightly should have had nothing on their minds except preparations over the summer as they get ready to enter the colleges of their choice. However, this wonderful group of young people, members of the high school's National Honor Society, chose to take the remaining funds in the organization's account and shop for needed items for the survivors of domestic violence and their children served by A Safe Place. These young adults arrived at our front door with box upon box of small appliances, household and cleaning items that they had called to find out were urgently needed. As their cars emptied, and our reception area filled, the happiness in their faces at performing such a generous deed spread to all of us.

While the community and the school district still have challenges ahead, they should know that the young people growing up there are reaching adulthood with a care and concern for the greater world around them. And that is something to make any community proud.

HoopStars program excels

Lady HoopStars 4-1 at Waukesha

The Northern Lake County Lady HoopStars fifth- and sixth-grade girl's basketball team added four more to the win column in a recent weekend tournament in Waukesha, while also recording their first team loss.

In the five games, Shanna Shepherd led the offense with 44 points, 16 steals, 32 rebounds and 9 blocked shots. Assisting under the net was Meghan Slack with 31 boards and Erin Claxton with 28. The offense was right on target with double-digit tallies by Kelly Dones (19), Slack (16), Joree Green (14), Claxton (12), and Lory Shaw (10).

The girls then finished 3-2 in a tournament at Notre Dame University.

"We didn't play as well as we could have, but we made up for it with hard work and hustle. The girls showed a lot of heart and determination," said Coach Paul Claxton.

In the first game, the Libertyville Lightning proved a worthy opponent matching the Lady HoopStar's speed and endurance. Shepherd scored 14 points, had one blocked shot, and grabbed 11 boards in a 35-30 victory. Shaw and Slack were also aggressive under the basket, grabbing seven and six rebounds, respectively. Slack also forced three turnovers on defense. Claxton led the way for next HoopStar win with a game-high of 10 points. She also led the team with six rebounds and three steals as the HoopStars squeaked by the Northwest Hustle, 26-25. Rachel Culp also forced a key turnover to set the HoopStar into motion while contributing six points.

The South Bend (Ind.) Lady Saints seventh-grade team then handed the girls their first loss, a 32-13 decision.

Scoring a basket each were Kelsey Armour, Claxton, Lenna Gonzalez, Green, Shepherd, and Destinee Wells. Culp rounded out the scoring with a free throw. Guards Shepherd and Green were leading rebounders with five and four, respectively. Shaw's relentless defense resulted in three forced turnovers.

Behind Green's hustle, the HoopStars redeemed themselves for a 21-18 victory over the Bulls Academy. Green scored 11 points and grabbed five rebounds. Shepherd, Claxton, and Kelly Dones also controlled the paint area in grabbing 10 rebounds apiece.

In its final game, the Lady HoopStars lost a heartbreaker to the seventh-grade Cary Grove Trojans, 26-22.

The HoopStars demonstrated a quicker offense but failed to connect on several of the shots. Claxton pulled down seven rebounds to go along with her 10 points. Green chipped in with five while Shepherd and Slack each netted three. Quick hands led to key steals by Dones, Green (two), Shepherd (two), and Slack (two). Shepherd also snared eight boards.

Claxton and Joe Shepherd coach the Lady HoopStars. The girls record currently stands at 17-3 overall. Next up will be the Fort Wayne (Ind.) tournament.

Sixth-grade boys

The Lake County-based sixth-grade HoopStars opened the MAYB Basketball Tournament in Chicago with a 43-17 over the Warriors.

Kegan McDaniel (eight points, six rebounds, one block, one steal); Johnny Layton (eight points, seven rebounds); Kevin Mason (eight points, three rounds, four assists, two steals); Tayler Erbach (six points, seven rebounds); Jason Warneke (five points, three rebounds, three assists, one steal); Chris Palmer (four points, five rebounds) and Dan Kalb (four points, three rebounds) led the HoopStars to the win.

The team then followed up with a 40-39 nail-biter over the Wildcats as McDaniel (20 points, 13 rebounds, one assist); Mason (five points, two rebounds); Warneke (five points, one block, one rebound); Erbach (five points, one rebound, one assist); Kalb (three points, three rebounds, two steals) and Layton (two points, three rebounds) led the Hoopstars to the win.

The team won its third straight game by a 46-37 score over the Wolverines as McDaniel (15 points, seven rebounds, one assists, one block, one steal); Mason (10 points, four assists, one steal); Warneke (five points, three rebounds, five assists, two steals); Kalb (five points, two rebounds); Brent Saemann (five points, three assists); Layton (four points, two rebounds); Erbach (two points, three rebounds) and Andy Goggin (two points, one rebound) contributed to the win.

The HoopStars lost their first game of the tournament to Mineral Magic by a 48-44 score.

McDaniel (14 points, four rebounds, two blocks, one assist, one steal); Mason (13 points, six rebounds, five assists, two steals); Erbach (seven points, two rebounds, one assist, one steal, one block); Warneke (five points, two steals, two rebounds) and Kalb (three points) all had good games.

The team then bounced back with a 48-30 win over the Wolverines as Mason (12 points, two assists, one rebound); McDaniel (10 points, four rebounds, one assist, one block, one steal); Erbach (eight points, eight rebounds, five assists); Saemann (six points, two assists, one steal); Kalb (five points, three rebounds); Warneke (two points, eight assists, three steals); Chris Palmer (three points, six rebounds) and Goggin (two points, one rebound) each contributed to the win.

Lawn Mower racing in Genoa City

America's fastest mowing sport will be on display at Genoa City Days in Genoa City, Wis., as the U.S. Lawn Mower Racing Association (USLMRA) presents the inaugural STA-BIL America's Dairyland Mow Down. The event is a race for riding lawn mowers and will take place Sat., Aug. 3, at 1 p.m. at Darling Field in the Village Park on Fellows Street in Genoa City. Festival admission is free.

Sod warriors will converge on this Wisconsin-Illinois border town for the big mow down, including The Turfinator, Sodzilla, Lawn Ranger, Weedy Gonzales, Mowdacious, Blading Saddles, Mowin for Broke and The Prograssinator.

The STA-BIL America's Dairyland Mow Down is part of the 20th Annual Genoa City Days, Aug. 2-4, hosted by the Genoa City Lions Club. the country this season and sanctioned by the Glenview-based U.S. Lawn Mower Racing Association.

Racers scheduled to compete include: four time U.S. National FX Class Champion Kevin Penne from Lake Villa; two-time U.S. National FX class champion Mike Miller of Kenosha; STA-BIL Regional Champions Al Bitterman from Lake Zurich; Dave Hertel of Crivitz, Wis.; Steve Bertrand from Green Bay, Wis.; and, Kevin and Mitch Kiper from Marseilles.

Members of the North Dakota Lawn Mower Racing Association are also scheduled to compete.

The organization created the sport to promote STA-BIL Fuel Stabilizer on April Fools' Day 1992, and tremendous response quickly turned the program into one of the largest growing grass roots sports the country has ever seen. Racers in the STA-BIL National Lawn Mower Racing Series travel across the country each season competing for points, trophies, glory and bragging rights. There are no cash prizes.

Sponsors include STA-BIL Fuel Stabilizer, which keeps stored gas fresh for quick, easy engine starts as well as 104+ Octane Boost, HEET Gas-Line Antifreeze and No Leak Automotive Sealers.

The STA-BIL National Lawn Mower Racing Series has been featured on the TV sitcom "Home Improvement" as well as in the New York Times, Sports Illustrated, Wall Street Journal, Maxim magazine, The Paul Harvey Radio Network, Auto Week, Modern Maturity, TNN and ESPN.

McCormick captures Lake County Women's Amateur

Gronow wins $5,000 in miniature golf contest

Mary Ann McCormick did not enter this year's Lake County Women's Golf Tournament at Highland Park Country Club with any specific goals other than trying to improve upon last year when she finished third. But when all was said and done, McCormick finished first with the lowest score over the field.

"I was happy with third last year," McCormick said. "When I looked at the people I was going up against like DeAnn (Stolarik) I'm really surprised. I just wanted to stay focused."

Focused she was. McCormick fired 37-37, overcoming a late double bogey that allowed her to cruise to the finish. On the 14th hole, she pulled her second shot into the creek in front of the green. After dropping, McCormick was able to get up and down for the double bogey and then followed with a par and a birdie on the final two holes.

"I was concerned coming in about my short game, especially putting," McCormick said.

In addition to two birdies, McCormick hit 10 fairways, 12 greens in regulation and finished with 31 putts.

"I was really happy about the number of putts, for me that is really good."

Staying focused was the key for McCormick. "I thought this was one of my most consistent performances," McCormick said. "I was able to just focus on each hole and play well the whole round."

Kathy Fehrenbacher of Renwood Golf Course finished with the lowest net score over the field (66). Bull Run's Keiko Hamazaki's was the lowest score in the championship flight (77) while Jan Nam from Brae Loch and Laura Miller of Bonnie Brook finished with the lowest net (70).—Eric Thompson

News and notes

A new short course tee system is now available at Brae Loch Golf Club in Grayslake. This will help make the game of golf more manageable and inviting for beginners of all ages. A Lake County Forest Preserve course, Brae Loch is one of the first courses in the area to feature a specialized short course tee system.

Like other tees designed for specific skill levels, Brae Loch's silver tees were created with the beginner in mind. These tees help novice players enter the game and provide a learning advantage with less frustration and greater early-on access. Playing the short course silver tees reduces the overall course length to 2,665 yards, compared to the gold tees on the regulation course, which measure 5,876 yards.

Junior golfers can also take advantage of a special "Play for Free" offers, which allows one junior golfer (17- and-under) to play for free after 4 p.m. daily when accompanied by an adult paying the prevailing rate. This limited offer is available at not only Brae Loch but at Ft. Sheridan in Highland Park. Please call ahead for reservations. Brae Loch's number is 847-223-5542 while Ft. Sheridan can be reached by calling 847-266-2120. For further information, check out the Lake County Forest Preserve web site at www.lcfdp.org.

Carillon North off Drury Lane in Grayslake will be hosting the SRALC golf event Thurs., Aug. 1. One player from the community will be randomly paired with an SRALC member for this alternate shot format. Prizes will be awarded to the top-3 teams. A quick dinner will follow golf. There will also be hole contests. The cost is $10 per player. Players are encouraged to bring their own clubs. Please call Carillon North at 847-548-4713 for more information or to register for the event.

Carillon North has also been holding a junior golf clinic throughout the summer. The clinic, for youths ages 8-14, runs until early to mid August. They play one round a week at their convenience during the clinic's duration. Carillon North Head PGA Professional and course manager Sam Ziccarelli also provides one-on-one instruction.

found that out first-hand when she knocked in a three-tier putt on the 12th hole during America's Action Territory's Third Annual Miniature Golf Hole In One contest. Action Territory, a family fun center that features miniature golf and go-carts, is located off of Hwy. 50 just west of Interstate-94, Kenosha.

Gronow's putt netted her the winning prize of $5,000. She was one of 30 finalists who qualified for a shot at the big money. This is the second year in a row that one of the qualifiers won the $5,000. Last year, Wanda Sconce of Fox Lake took home the first-place check.

The event was broadcasted live on the WIIL, 95.1 morning show with hosts Tom Kief and Joanie Meyers. Quizno's Subs served as a co-sponsor for the event along with WIIL.

The First Annual North Chicago Chamber of Commerce Golf Classic will take place Wed., July 31 at Foss Park Golf Course, 3124 Argonne Dr., North Chicago. Registration and continental breakfast will be preceded by a shotgun, best ball scramble format starting at 10 a.m. Lunch will be served at the turn with a Texas Style Steak Cookout dinner beginning at 4:30 p.m.

The banquet following golf will include dinner, drawings, raffles, entertainment and golf and awards. During dinner, musical entertainment will be provided by Bob Hunter. The cost for a foursome and banquet only is $400. For an individual for golf and banquet, the cost is $100. Hole sponsorships are also available.

Keeping kids safe in a dangerous world

I'm fed up! I'm sickened by hearing about all the kids who are being victimized in our supposedly wonderful country. Each time I turn on the news and hear another horrific recounting of some tiny little, innocent soul who has been brutalized, I want to be sick. I would like to give some tips on what I believe needs to be done to help keep all of our kids safe and prevent it from occurring in the first place. Some may be things you have heard before or thought to be logical and others may offend you but will go further to make sure your kids do not make mistakes about approaching strangers. Remember that the Runnion's little girl was drilled and had practiced role playing on not approaching strangers and this was still able to happen. We have all seen show after show in which previously trained children are approached by "fake" strangers to see if their stranger danger training has worked. On those shows we watch child after child be sucked in by that "fake" stranger even after all the training. My position is that we need to be more intense about that training so that no other kids ever have this happen. Before I give my thoughts, I want to say that my sorrow for this child and her family is intense and heart stopping. The same as it has been for the other children who have been desecrated recently and in the past. My thoughts in this column are in no way meant to say anything about what any of these families did or did not do. It's just time for this to stop happening now.

1.) We all need to watch out for everyone's children. A few weeks ago, we were at a local shopping mall and heard the desperate cries of a toddler looking for his lost mommy. Hearing those cries made my stomach cringe in a sort of panic as I scanned the mall to find where they were coming from, looking for the child in trouble, so we could help. He was behind us and as we turned to look a security guard was already approaching him quickly. What I found to be wonderful was the fact that at least 10 other faces looked as aware and panicked as I felt and were all closing in on trying to help this child. We need more of that. Every one of them is every one of our children. It is imperative that we all watch out for each other's kids all the time.

PARENT'S PLACE

2.) Do not take your eyes off of your children whenever possible. I have been called over-protective and paranoid by many a person when I suggest that children need to be watched excessively in all environments. This is no longer a Brady Bunch world that many of us grew up in. It is a very dangerous world now. A world where we have to teach our children how to protect themselves aggressively. Many parents don't want to frighten their children so they don't teach them that. Let me tell you that I would rather have my child a little afraid and overly cautious than the alternative. Families I know have supplied their older children with high powered Walkie Talkies or communication devices like Nextel so that when the younger and older children go somewhere together (i.e. the park) the parents and kids can communicate any time necessary. If something happens, parents can be there in 2 seconds. It has worked well for people I know. Try to have the kids play in the fenced backyard and not the front or park, especially when it's only a couple of them.

3.) Stranger danger training has to go further than what we have known in the past. First, train them in the essentials. To ignore the lost puppy thing. To not even move toward a stranger's car. To run away and to trust their instincts and leave when they feel there is a problem. Just like everything else I have ever written about with regard to learning, processing and attention, repetition is a must here. You must go over this day and night with your children so it becomes permanent. That is still not enough. My belief is that if a child does not attach some sort of emotional meaning to the drilling and training, it will not mean much in a real situation. For example, when a parent comes to me and tells me that his or her child has played with matches, I don't just tell them to talk to the child about it. I have them take the child to a burn unit at a hospital so they can see what matches can do. Yes, it scares them to death, but it works. Again, I would rather have my child and any other child afraid than the alternative. Remember that fear is there for a reason. It preserves us and saves us. If it isn't there, we walk into bad situations without thought. In the case of stranger danger, after training the basics a lot, and showing your child how far he or she can actually go toward even the sidewalk from your house (draw a line if necessary), I would have a family friend or a relative that isn't known to the child test it out, just like they do in the shows on t.v. Now, for obvious reasons, you do not have this friend or family member grab the child unless that person wants to go to jail. You simply have that person drive up while you are out there in the background with the child. Have the person do the lost puppy story or ask for directions to the child and see how far your child goes to that car. Here is the part that some parents find less than tasteful. If the child violates your training and goes to the car or goes further than he or she is supposed to, you have consequences for that just like any other violated rule of yours. Not violent consequences, but appropriate ones. Ones that the child will not like and will remember well so that the next time it happens there is a reason in memory to not do it. You see, adults all know the horror of what the real consequence could be to a child approaching a stranger's car, but the child does not know that scenario at all. Even the one's who are scared of what

Lake Forest Hospital Women's Auxiliary awards scholarships

The Lake Forest Hospital Women's Auxiliary has announced this year's recipients of its Health Career Scholarships. Nelia Yu, the hospital's director of surgical services, is the winner of the $5,000 Marion Warner Hodgkins Scholarship. In addition, The Women's Board also awarded 24 A.B. Dick Scholarships, ranging from $500 to $2,500 each. The scholarships are for students interested in pursuing health care careers or professionals continuing their education in a health-care field.

The $5,000 scholarship is named for Mimi Hodgkins, who was instrumental in establishing Lake Forest Hospital's Women's Board. She served as its first president and also volunteered for more than 50 years at the hospital. This year's recipient will use the scholarship to complete her master's in management (MM) degree at North Park University in Chicago this fall and to help retire past education debts. Following notification, Yu enrolled in two classes this summer.

The mother of three children says, "Thanks to the support I've received from the hospital and, now, the Hodgkins Scholarship, I'll be able to realize my goal in October. I started my MM work shortly after beginning my employment here two years ago. Honestly, Lake Forest Hospital has been very good to me. I'm really grateful."

Last year's winner, LFH CareCoach Program Coordinator Sue McWilliams, received her master's of science in nursing (MSN) degree during ceremonies at the University of Phoenix on Saturday, June 29.

She completed her course work online. As a result of her achievements, McWilliams was inducted as a member of Sigma Theta Tau, the international honor society of nursing, on May 18. Membership is by invitation to nursing students who demonstrate excellence in scholarship and to nursing leaders exhibiting exceptional achievements in the profession.

The A.B. Dick Scholarships are named in honor of A.B. Dick, Jr., whose family donated the land for Lake Forest Hospital and who was an active chairman of the Board of Directors. This year's A.B. Dick Scholarship winners are Sally Andersson, Zion; Barbara Aubel, Deerfield; Robert Bajnaiah, Chicago; Erica Boiman, Lake Bluff; Cynthia Braa, Lake Villa; Heidi Brueggemann, Lake Bluff; Beth Cavallero, Mundelein; Terri DeWees, Gurnee; Diane Goodman, Kenosha, Wis.; Loretta Hansen, Wadsworth; Margaret Hartman, Lake Forest; Penny Hiniker, Grayslake; Megan Luetje, Lake Forest; Amy Marquardt, Libertyville; Paul Nachowicz, Itasca; Karen Plewe, Libertyville; Diana Rawls, Wadsworth; Julie Sagel, Waukegan; Jean Schoening, Lincolnshire; Cecilia Sherrod, Kenosha, Wis.; Kyla Short, Libertyville; Irina Shostack, Skokie; Patty Smith, Waukegan; and Vicki Tekampe, Libertyville.

happened to the Runnion's little girl will forget the intensity of this as time goes by because it didn't happen to them or someone in their immediate world. The child only knows the training was a thing to talk to mommy about or role play with daddy about. There is absolutely no emotional connection between the rule of staying away from strangers and the actual act of doing that. This is why you see kids going up to strangers, in the those shows, even when they have been trained otherwise. Because it doesn't mean as much to them as it did to the parent who trained them. That is why you need to make it mean something immediate

Healthy eating for back-to-school

Back-to-school brings many thoughts to mind: new clothes, new notebooks and supplies, new friends, new ideas to learn. It also brings a new opportunity to make sure kids eat healthy and nutritious meals and snacks.

Did you know that currently less than 15 percent of kids in the U.S. are eating the recommended five servings of fruits and vegetables a day? Seventy-five percent of children consume a diet that exceeds the maximum recommended dietary fat levels. Clearly kids need to learn more about why eating fruits and vegetables is an important part of their diets.

A Resource for Parents

Parents looking for ways to get their kids to eat more fruits and vegetables can turn to www.aboutproduce.com, a web site filled with free recipes, a fun kid's area, and valuable nutrition information for all members of the family.

On aboutproduce.com, parents can search the recipe database for a wide variety of fruit and vegetable dishes—from breakfast ideas to salads to main dishes to desserts to snacks—discover how long the meals take to prepare, and add the ingredients to their printable shopping list. There is also a free e-mail recipe club for visitors to sign up to receive a weekly recipe.

In "The Produce Patch"

After parents have found a healthy meal for the family, the kids can go to aboutproduce.com to have some fun. In the kids' section, called "The Produce Patch," four characters (Chirp, Paulina, Caleb, and Hoyt) help children become more familiar with fruits and vegetables. Kids can:

- Learn how to make tasty, after-school snacks such as fruit smoothies, shakes, or fruit cups
 - Take an interactive adventure on a make-believe farm to find certain fruits and vegetables
 - Paint coloring book pages online or print the pages in black and white for offline entertainment
 - Discover different ways to use produce items in crafts
 - Get answers to their produce questions
- Kids can also use the web site as a source of information for homework, school reports, projects, and more. It's like a produce encyclopedia!

Nutrition, News, and Trivia for the Family

In addition to the recipe database and the fun kid's content, another area of aboutproduce.com that the whole family can use is the health and nutrition dictionary.

It can help family members learn about the "5 A Day" program, which advocates eating five servings of fruits and vegetables a day for better health. There are also tips on how to get fit with "5 A Day."

The dictionary explains how much a serving actually is. It's smaller than you think. One serving can be: 1 medium-size piece of fruit, 3/4 cup (6 oz.) of 100 percent fruit or vegetable juice, 1/2 cup cooked or canned vegetables or fruit, 1 cup of raw leafy vegetables, 1/2 cup cooked dry peas or beans, or 1/4 cup dried fruit.

Armed with this knowledge, parents can show the kids that eating "5 A Day" really isn't all that hard. — Courtesy of ARA Content to them. Also, do not think that if you tell them about horrible things it will work to solidify the information permanently. It won't. They cannot have the same understanding of it that we do. The magic is not in the telling. It must mean something to them. What is a good consequence for approaching a stranger's car? How about the child writing 25 or 50 times, "I will not go to a stranger's car." You can write the 1st sentence so the child can copy it if he or she is young. This should be age appropriate because anyone young enough to not be able to copy a simple sentence like this should not be alone playing in front anyway. This is a good consequence all around because it is repetitive and hits the message home over and over again. You can also discuss it after the writing has been done. It is also writing practice and what could be bad about that?

4.) When teaching your child to scream and kick if taken by someone, tell him or her to scream something meaningful like "help" or "fire." We live by a park and I cannot tell you how many times I have gone to the window sure that someone was being brutalized in the park only to find it is kids screaming with glee on a swinging tire.

When a child screams without a specific meaning, people learn to tune it out thinking it is just kids playing. If a child yells for help or yells "fire," people are far more likely to respond and help. How many people actually turn around and look anymore when a car alarm goes off? Not many. This is the same basic idea.

5.) Become more active in knowing which judges are forgiving of this behavior and which are not. Also, vote for people who will punish severely this kind of behavior. This needs no further explanation.

We all need to get together to stop this from ever happening again. God and peace be with the lost children and their families.

Dr. Sherri Singer is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Childhood Behavior Specialist. She regularly works in person with many readers of this column, helping them to significantly improve their kid's attention, behavior and processing skills. Dr. Singer continues to help kids with improving attention, distractibility, self-control, focus and processing in her Total Success Program. Red Cross prepared for a heat emergency

To keep the Chicagoland area safe, the American Red Cross of Greater Chicago urges area residents to take precautions during this bout of heat and throughout the summer.

To avoid weather-related emergencies such as heat cramps, heat exhaustion and heat stroke, the Red Cross advises you to:

- Slow down. Avoid strenuous activity. If you must do strenuous activity, do it during the coolest part of the day, which is usually in the morning from 4 to 7 a.m.
- Stay indoors as much as possible. If air conditioning is not available, stay on the lowest floor out of the sunshine or take advantage of public places with air conditioning such as libraries, movie theatres and malls. Remember that electric fans do not cool, they simply circulate air.
- Wear lightweight, light-colored clothing. Light colors will reflect some of the sun's energy away from the body.

- Drink plenty of water often, even if you don't feel thirsty. Your body needs water to keep cool.

- Avoid drinks with caffeine and alcohol. They can make you feel better briefly, but they make the heat's effects on your body worse. This is equally true with beer, which dehydrates the body.

- Eat small meals and eat more often. Avoid foods high in protein, which increase metabolic heat.

- Avoid using salt tablets unless directed to do so by a physician. Salt dehydrates the body increasing the likelihood of cramps.

To obtain a free heat safety brochure, contact the American Red Cross of Greater Chicago by calling 312-729-6212. For more information on heat and other safety-related topics, log onto chicagoedcross.org.

Statin drugs lower heart disease risk in postmenopausal women

Treatment with a cholesterol-lowering statin can significantly reduce the risk of heart disease and possibly death in postmenopausal women taking hormone replacement therapy (HRT), investigators report in the rapid access issue of Circulation: Journal of the American Heart Association.

Women taking statins had a 21 percent lower risk of heart attack and death related to heart disease and a 33 percent lower risk of dying from any cause during four years of treatment, compared to women who did not take statins. Statin therapy was also associated with a 55 percent lower risk of venous thromboembolism (VTE, blood clots in veins), a potentially life-threatening problem that can occur in women on HRT.

"These data add substantial additional support for use of statins in women with heart disease," says David Herrington, M.D., M.H.S., lead author of the report. "Our results help clarify residual concerns about the true magnitude of statins' benefit in women, because three previous clinical trials had produced somewhat divergent results."

Herrington's team reviewed data from the Heart and Estrogen/progestin Replacement Study (HERS). The primary purpose of HERS was to evaluate the effect of HRT on heart attack and death in 2,763 women with coronary heart disease. The principal finding of HERS showed no overall effect of hormone replacement therapy on coronary risk.

In their reanalysis of HERS data, researchers looked specifically at the outcomes of 1,004 women taking a statin drug when they entered the study, as well as 708 who began statin therapy during the trial. They found that women taking statins at baseline or at any time during the trial had significantly fewer first-time coronary heart disease (CHD) events (heart attack or CHD death) than those who did not take statins.

Women in HERS who took a statin for at least three years had a 26 percent lower rate of heart attack and coronary death. Statin use for less than three years was associated with a more modest 11 percent risk reduction, compared to non-statin users. Death from any cause was 30 percent lower in women who used a statin at any time during the HERS trial.

Statin drugs have a well-established ability to reduce heart disease risk in men, but until recently the effects in women were less clear, says Herrington, a professor of medicine at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, N.C. Earlier studies of statin therapy included relatively few women, and the benefits in women varied widely. HERS was unique because of the large number of women available for study. (Subsequent to HERS, a preliminary summary from the large Heart Protection Study reported significant risk reductions for CHD in women taking 40 mg/day of simvastatin.)

Mirroring the primary findings of the HERS trial, the statin analysis showed that HRT users who were not taking a statin had an especially high risk for coronary events during the first year of the trial - 75 percent higher compared to the placebo group. In contrast, women who were on HRT and a statin during the first year of HERS had the same risk of CHD events as the placebo group.

"The data suggest that statins might help diminish the adverse effects of HRT, but the finding needs to be confirmed in other studies," says Herrington.

Some scientists have wondered whether the lack of HRT benefit on coronary risk in HERS was because of increased statin use in the placebo group, Herrington says. To evaluate the impact of increased statin use in the placebo group, the researchers reanalyzed the data after excluding both women who started statin therapy during HERS and women who took statins before and during the trial. After statistically adjusting for an imbalance in statin use between the treatment and placebo groups, they still did not find a benefit for HRT.

"This study shows that increased statin use in the placebo group did not explain the null finding of the HERS trial," says Herrington.

Customize existing plan to obtain custom home

While build-to-suit remains the traditional route to a custom home, many families find that customizing an existing plan is a more practical route to building a dream home.

"For families on a more limited budget, customizing a good basic design is less of a compromise than you might think," advises Robin Anthony, director of sales for The Elliott Group, which has been building both kinds of homes in the Illinois area for more than 40 years.

"A customized design has a couple of advantages over the custom home," suggests Anthony. "First of all, they cost less. And, second, they are built much faster and for some buyers, particularly those relocating to the Chicago area, speed can be a priority."

If you are contemplating either build-to-suit or customizing a design, it is important to distinguish between a custom builder who will customize a home and a production builder that calls himself a semi-custom builder, Anthony cautions.

"There are many production builders who will bump out a wall, add an island to the kitchen or turn a den into a guest bedroom with bath and call themselves semi-custom builders," she explains.

Customizing can mean expanding or adding a room, moving or removing an interior wall, changing the height of a ceiling or installing special windows. Depending on the lot, it might mean stretching a two-car garage to a three-car garage. Or it might simply mean adding or moving electrical outlets so that the house accommodates your power needs and your lifestyle.

The economic benefits of customizing are two-fold, explains Anthony.

First, by simply refining a floor plan that you find appealing to start with you avoid the substantial planning time and expense involved in creating a custom-designed home.

Then there is the economy of scale that the builder brings to a semi-custom home community.

"We buy materials in bulk and apply management techniques that enable us to produce customized homes on time and on budget," said Anthony.

Customizing appeals primarily to families who are upgrading as well as those who are downsizing.

"For the move-up family it is an opportunity to create a more luxurious and individual lifestyle. And it allows the empty nesters who prefer to remain in a single-family home a degree of flexibility that they might not have in downsizing to a standard production home," she noted.

Buyers can also customize in many cases with architectural changes such as adding porches, dormers, gables, different roof styles and combinations of brick, stone and wood fronts or selecting bays and leaded-glass sidelights at the front entry, many of which are shown with various architectural elevations available.

Efficiency more important than raw room space

When 'measuring' the amount of space a home has, it's a good idea to consider the efficiency of the space. What's important is whether the space is really useable.

"You can't evaluate a home simply by counting the number of rooms it has or the amount of square footage," advises Helen Weiss, principal of Weiss Development Corp.

"The arrangement of space and whether it fits your lifestyle are what's most important," she advises.

This is especially true when considering condominium homes. Some people relocating from a single-family home are concerned that a condominium will be cramped, because they believe that condominiums "naturally are smaller."

Not so, says Weiss. A condominium can be as large or even larger than a comparably priced single-family home, and it may even offer more useable space if it is well designed.

Speaking from years of experience, Weiss offers these guidelines in rating the space and its efficiency when you consider a condominium home:

- Is there sufficient space for the furnishings you have or intend to buy? Floating sofa arrangements, in which sofa sections are set up to form a U or even a complete square, need large living rooms. King-size beds require good wall space in bedrooms.

Many people coming from single-family homes have large-scale furnishings they wish to keep, so it's important to determine if these pieces will fit into the rooms.

"Check the builder's floor plans and use a tape measure if necessary to be sure," said Weiss. As Village Green, some living rooms are as large as approximately 16 by 24 feet while master bedrooms go up to about 16 by 18 feet.

- Check the 'architecture' of each room, particularly the amount of wall space and location of windows and doors. In the living room, is there enough space for the entertainment center you plan to install? And in the bedrooms, will you have enough space for the entertainment center you plan to install? And in the bedrooms, will you have enough wall space for a triple dresser and chest of drawers?

Do the doors swing the right way, or will they conceal something you want to display if the doors are left open?

- Look at closet and cabinet storage, especially if you are moving from a single-family home with plenty to store. Many families have treasured objects they don't want to discard, so storage is a must.

"There seems to be an unwritten law that says the number of things you have to store is directly proportional to the amount of closet space you have, meaning that if you have space, you will find something to fill it," said the Village Green project manager.

Each bedroom, of course, needs a closet of its own and the master bedroom should have extra closet space in the form of a walk-in closet with at least two rows for hanging clothes. Any extra closet space in a bedroom is a bonus.

The home should also have a guest coat closet in the foyer and a linen closet. Village Green has two linen closets in all residences. If the home has more closets than these, thank your stars.

Weiss suggests that a good way to check storage in the kitchen is by measuring cabinet and undercounter space. Ideally you will discover a kitchen with a pantry. All Village Green kitchens have cabinet-style pantries with roll-out shelves. There should also be adequate cabinet space to store china, glassware, utensils and food.

- A critical dimension is the efficiency of space. For example, is the entry foyer a true foyer where you can greet guests comfortably? Or is it the size of a postage stamp that forces your guests into the living room while they are taking off or putting on their wraps?

Many condominiums offer dens that can double as bedrooms, assuming a closet and good access to guest bath are provided. If so, you may want the dens to have doors that permit the room to be closed off for privacy.

Is the breakfast area in the kitchen large enough for the breakfast table you have in mind?

If the condominium offers a balcony or patio, find out if it is merely ornamental or if it is large enough to equip with outdoor furniture so that you can enjoy the space and views.

Fire reveals deeper problem

By MARC JENKINS
News Editor

There wasn't any smoke coming from North Chicago High School, but there definitely was a fire—three of them to be exact—inside the school's gym, ruining a new $25,000 floor.

Although no one was injured in the fire, promptly put out by nine departments and no students were said to be in the building, a handful of school staffers in areas not near the gym did not hear fire alarms.

"They (the fire alarms) were not heard throughout the school," said North Chicago school superintendent Patricia Pickles. "We need alarms that everyone can hear instantly. It's fortunate no one got hurt, this time."

Three fires, including ones also in a section of bleachers and on a stage did not spread and cause any further damage.

Pickles said that although the alarms are checked on a yearly basis by the city's building inspector, she would like to see an upgrade or overhaul of the current fire alarm system, saying she would do "whatever it takes" to get the installed as soon as possible.

Evidence at the scene pointed to arson as a probable cause of the fire, on Friday, July 19, at about 3 p.m. That evidence is being evaluated by arson investigators at the Northern Illinois Crime Lab in Highland Park.

Fire departments responding included those from North Chicago, Great Lakes, Waukegan, Gurnee, Grayslake, Libertyville, Knollwood, Lake Bluff and Lake Forest.

Pollution solution praised

Baxter Healthcare in Round Lake has discovered a new prescription for getting along with its neighbors by using its fully treated wastewater to irrigate trees on 185 acres leased to Synnestvedt Nursery instead of allowing the water to discharge into Long Lake.

It was after an initial confrontational meeting in March of 2001 between irate members of the Long Lake Improvement and Sanitation Assn., and Baxter officials that the Long Lake Watershed Analysis Project Team was formed.

At that time residents of the 1,200 households on the 340 acre recreational Long Lake challenged Baxter to identify solutions that would allow it to discontinue the discharge of its treated wastewater into Long Lake.

"In the beginning it seemed impossible until we began looking at the 240,000 gallons of treated wastewater as a resource rather than a waste," said Joe Wolfsberger, vice president of environmental health and safety at Baxter.

Sander Sundberg, president of the Long Lake association, admitted that at the beginning tempers were hot on both sides. "But we asked Baxter to think of us as their conscience and I believe they have. This is a great relationship that has produced excellent results," said Sundberg.

This project contains a number of innovative features which include using fully treated wastewater being applied to ensure absorption by trees and soil protecting against runoff.

During the winter months when conditions are not suitable for irrigation the water will be retained in a storage pond for reuse.

It will also keep water in the watershed by reusing water in the irrigation of the nursery stock. At the same time it will reduce the amount of water that is removed from the local aquifer by replacing the well water the nursery uses for irrigation with the treated wastewater discharge from Baxter.

collegiate arenas abound. Virtually no new stadium of that type doesn't bear a corporate logo and/or sponsorship to some extent.

In Jefferson County, Colo., the local football stadium, which is used for high school sports, was recently paid $2 million by U.S. West Communications Group to slap its name on the stadium for 10 years.

"This is becoming more common with schools," said Vernon Hills athletic director Al

Janulis. "We have a unique opportunity because we were located in a corporate park. Many have reached out to us."

A fund-raising group at the school, the Cougar Council, headed up by Tom Foster, has already collected $250,000 to help build the field and plans to continue to sell "Pathway of Pride" bricks until it runs out.

Tony Monken, head football coach of the Cougars, just wants to see his team play its first home game.

"It doesn't bother me at all," said Monken. "If it takes sponsorships to get the stadium done, it's fine with me."

But Monken draws the line there. He said he wouldn't like to see corporate logos on his team's uniforms. "But if we were sponsored by a clothing company to wear their clothes or shoes, that would be another thing."

Pepsi and Coca-Cola have for years given scoreboards and other equipment to schools in exchange for the right to sell their products at games and throughout the school.

In turn, the school has given back to its corporate neighbors, providing meeting rooms, music for special company functions, shared parking spaces and use of its auditorium.

COUNTY

"We have not ruled (the site) out completely," said Assistant County Administrator Peter Austin. "We looked at what our costs would be to make the space fit our needs. It's not necessarily what someone else's costs would be."

Virgie Brown, property manager for S&G Properties, owners of the site, echoed the sentiment, as she described more typical scenarios for the space.

"When we were looking at subdividing the space into three retail spaces, actual contractors' bids for renovation ranged from $500-900,000," she said. "The county's estimates are based on a consultant's opinions."

Brown said she had received no official word on a decision either way.

At first glance, it appeared the site had much to recommend it, including 32,491 square feet of raw space, an adjacent parking lot and easy access on Grand Avenue.

When the county first considered the site, it was looking for a way to expand court facilities without the capital expenditures engendered in new construction. It was seen as a possible alternative to new construction in the Round Lake area.

Austin, cautioning "this is not a comparison of apples to apples," explained that while the cost of constructing a new court in Mundelein was $1.6-1.7 million, the space involved is only 8,000 square feet.

"The Eagle site is 32,000 square feet," he said. "We would construct one complete courtroom, shell out another, and have 25,000 square feet for other county offices."

Austin said the county was considering other options, such as constructing additional office space in Libertyville or Waukegan.

the four apartment buildings are directly in the flood plain.

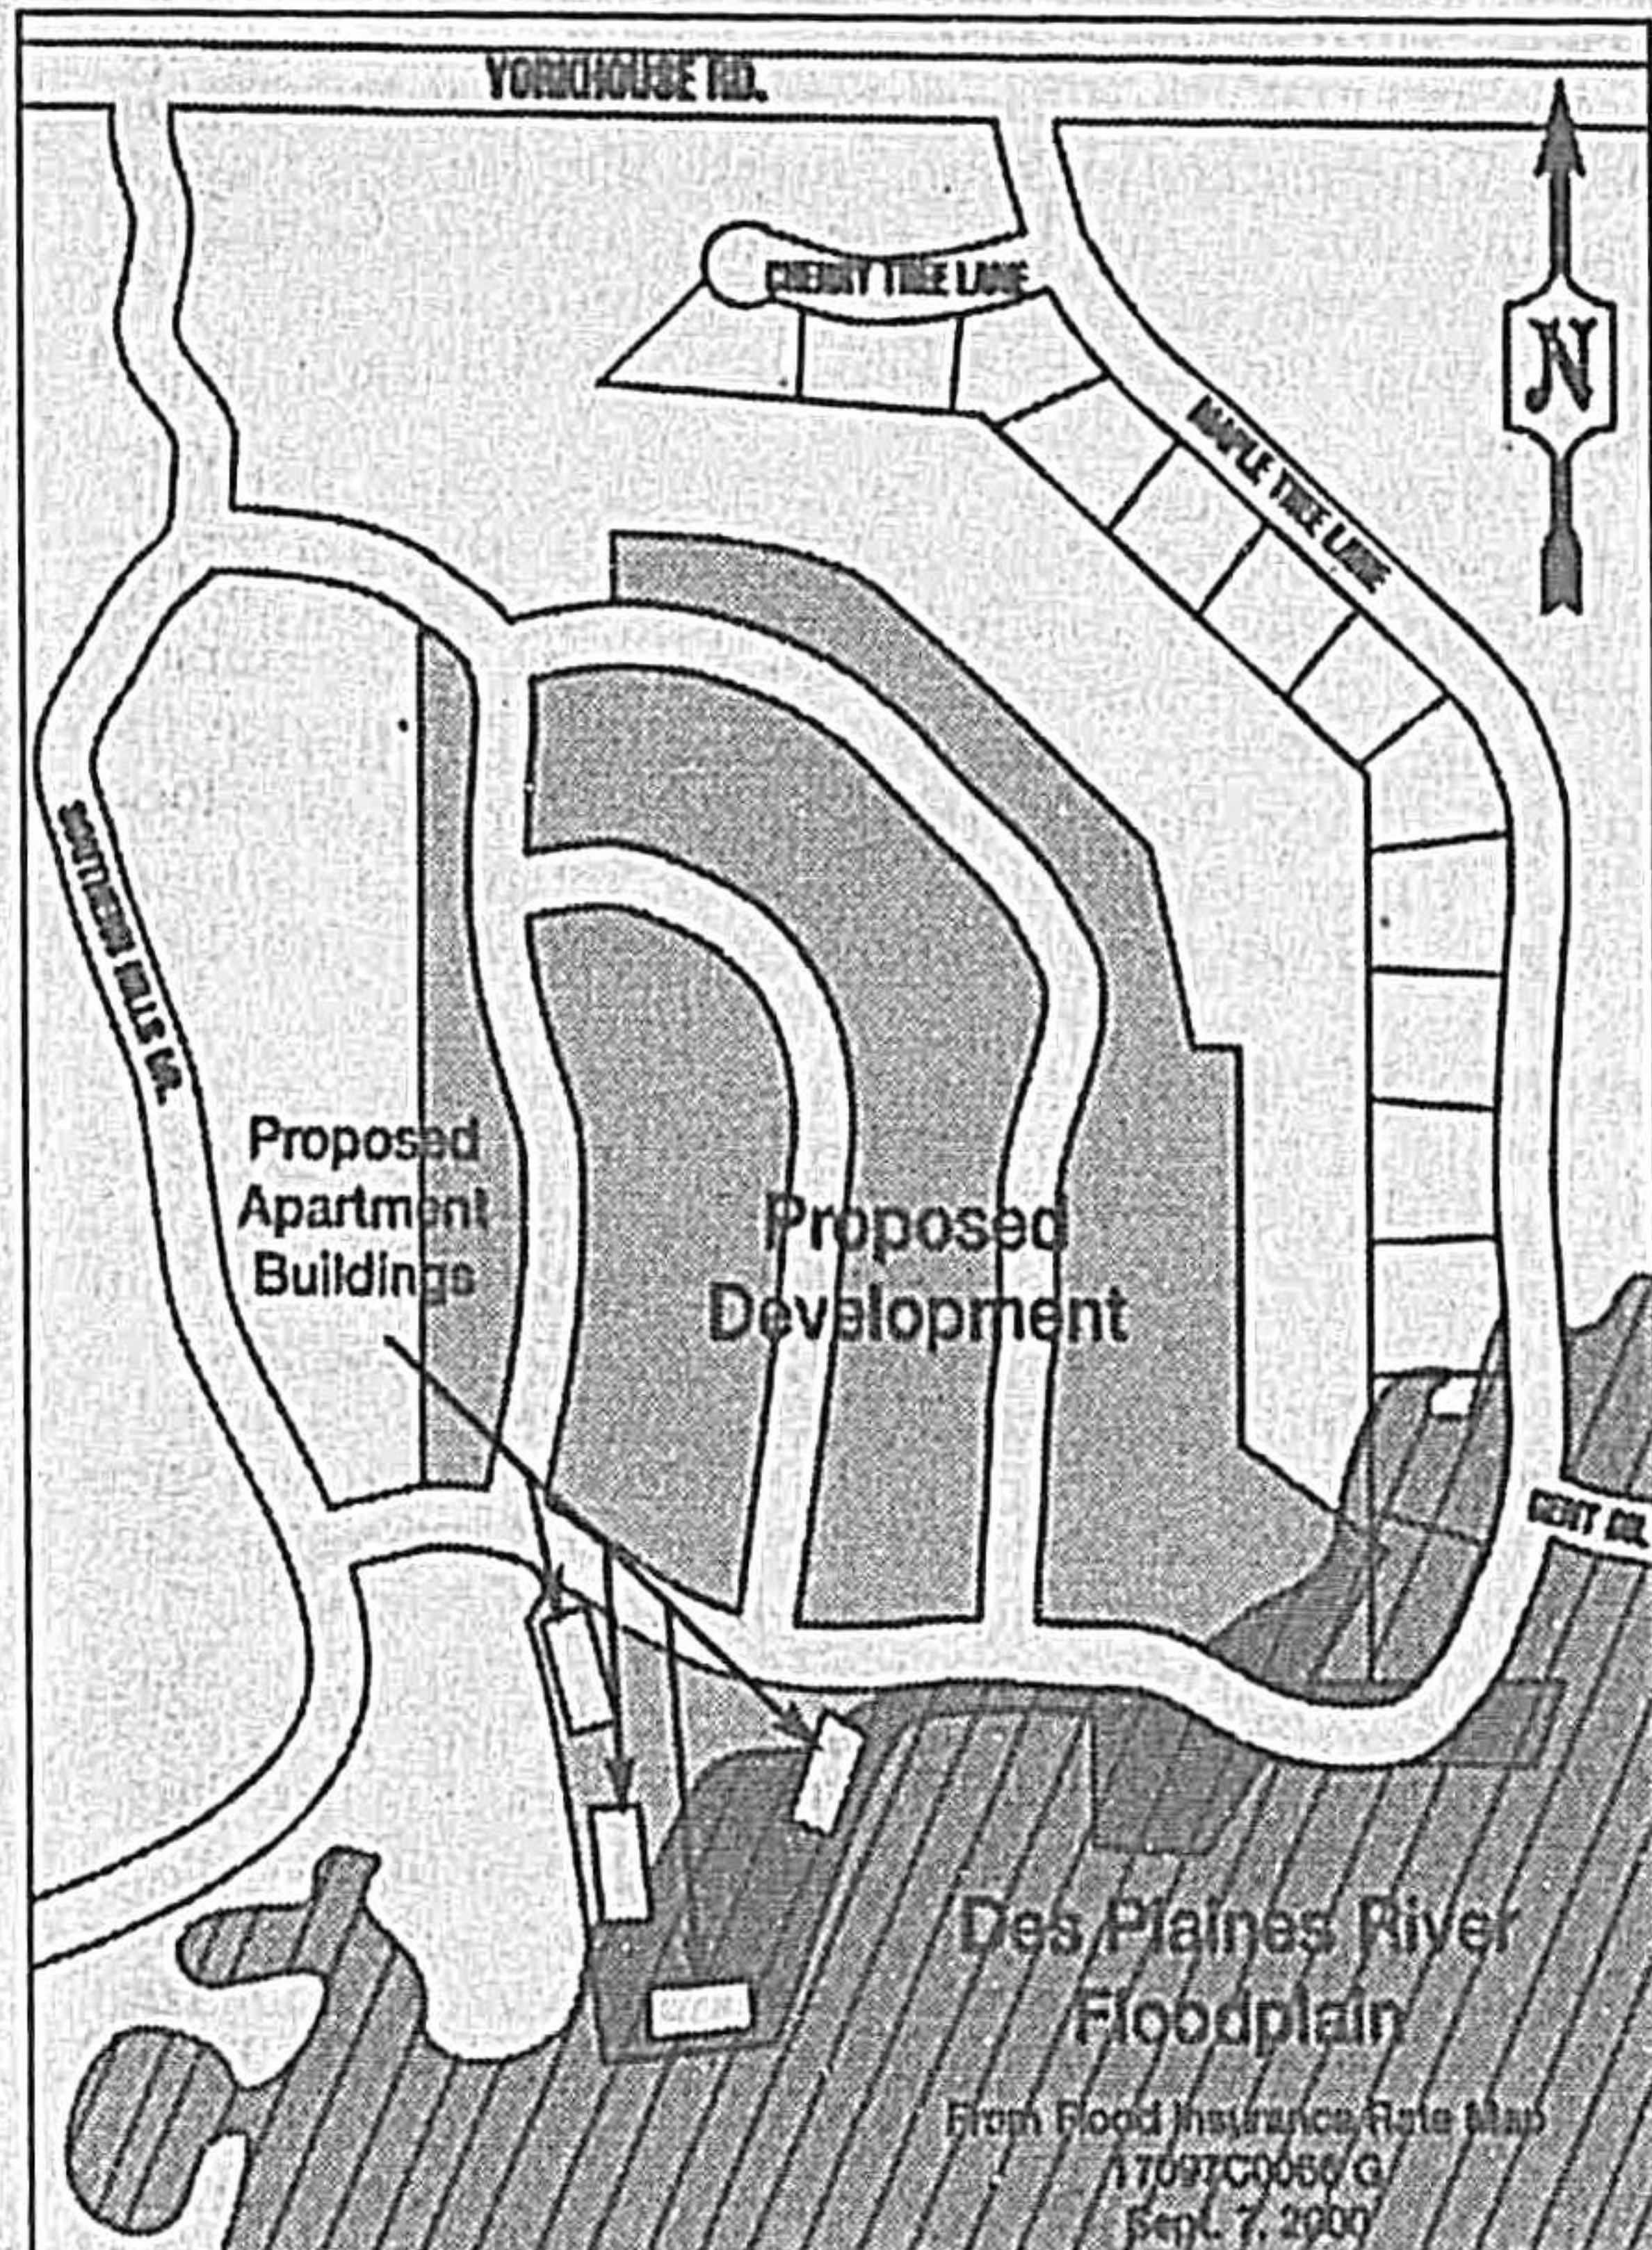

"If you are in a flood plain, you cannot build in it. Builders have no latitude in this regard," said Tom Rosenquist, one of the owners of Midlane Country Club.

Tom Donohue, former 30-year employee with the Waukegan department of water and sewers, expressed concern that the sewer and water lines currently feeding the area are undersized to be able to handle additional demand presented by 409 more residences. "We're afraid of an infrastructure overload," said Donohue. He sent a letter to the Waukegan Planning Commission on June 14 outlining some of his concerns.

He said the water main feeding the area is not looped, which would leave residents without water if there were a break in the water line. He also said the lift station east of Delaney Road, used to pump sewage out of the area, was built prior to the hotel at Midlane and he is concerned it is not adequate to serve the additional development. He also asked the commission if the sewer line running from the lift station, south to Sunset is large enough to handle the additional load produced by any new development.

The planning commission is looking into the adequacy of the infrastructure as well as residents claims the proposed apartment buildings are in the flood plain. Residents are also worried about the additional traffic a new development would bring into the area. Donohue said there is only one way into and out of the development off of Yorkhouse Road. The development plans show a road connecting the southern end of the development to Maple Tree Lane. This route would also allow another exit to Yorkhouse Road or possibly onto Delaney using Gent Drive.

Proposed Midlane Links development, superimposed to scale on the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) produced by FEMA. The FIRM map shows the flood plain for the Des Plaines River as it affects the proposed development.

Lake County residents are invited to stop and smell the roses on July 27-28 during the second annual Butterfly Garden tour, sponsored by the Illinois Audubon Society.

During the event, participants can take a self-guided tour of more than 70 private butterfly gardens and 19 private gardens in the Chicagoland area, including seven gardens in Lake County, said Kay MacNeil, co-chairman of the event.

The tour, which lasts from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on July 27 and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on July 28, allows the public to visit the gardens in an effort to educate them on how to preserve wildlife before it is too late, MacNeil said.

"Whenever you have a great piece of wildlife, they always want to put a condo next to it," she said. "We're very fortunate to have the Illinois Audubon Society setting aside property for wildlife."

The butterfly gardens featured in the event are designed to be safe-havens for butterflies and insects that are losing their habitats due to the rapid production of housing developments, MacNeil said.

The gardens are planted with native flowering plants that will attract butterflies and insects and provide them natural habitats, as well as allow gardeners to observe them in an intrinsic environment, right in their own backyard.

"The event brings attention to the plight of butterflies," MacNeil said. "It brings people's attention to the fact that you can garden and bring insects and butterflies to your own yard."

Bob Stempel of Round Lake Park planted his own safe-haven for butterflies from scratch.

Stempel's garden, which will be one of seven Lake County butterfly gardens featured in the tour, has been evolving for nine years. He cultivated a lot that did not even have soil on it into a wildlife garden that won first prize in a garden contest in 2000.

"We started with nothing — we had a new lot and there was nothing on it, not even soil," Stempel said. "We were not happy looking out and being surrounded by lawn. We wanted to have some habitat."

Even though he is happy to have won that title, Stempel said that's not the reason he planted the garden.

"We didn't do it to win contests," Stempel said. "We really wanted to contribute to reversing the devastation. Not only did we feel a responsibility but it's what made us feel good."

Stempel's garden, which he maintains with his wife, Carla Schmakel, boasts around 160 plants, 80% native and 20% non-native, he said. The garden is full of flora, Stempel said, which includes a wide variety of trees and shrubs as well as an assortment of brightly colored flowers to attract not only butterflies, but also other wildlife animals.

"This spring was absolutely spectacular for migrant birds," Stempel said. "We could see all the birds that don't live here in the summertime. It was a real dream in April and May. We see mourning cloaks and caterpillars feeding on poplars... we're just now starting to see butterflies."

Stempel said he encourages everyone to visit their garden and see what a wildlife garden has to offer.

The tour is self-guided, and those taking it will receive a tour book complete with maps guiding them to the gardens, which MacNeil said gives participants more leeway to go at their own rate.

Tickets for the tour, at $15, can be purchased at Lucca Designs Home and Garden Accents, 309 Old McHenry Road in Long Grove or call MacNeil at 815-469-1294.

ATTENTION PET OWNERS We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your be-

these suggestions.
*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are impostors and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.
*Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the refor an entire lifetime of that

pet. For more information,

Employers Seek Childlike Innocence

By Scott T. Fleischmann

When my oldest daughter was about 5 years old she asked me to take the training wheels off of her bicycle. She had been riding it for almost two years and seemed to have excellent control of the quadricycle. After two or three times around the block she asked me to let go of the handlebars and let her steer. I did that, about a week later. She guided the bike two more corners before she asked me to let go of the back of the seat. This time it took me about two weeks before I had the confidence to let her go solo.

As she turned through the first corner I watched in fear as she overturned into a large hedge. When I had dashed the hundred yards to the site, I saw that she had landed in the center of the three-foot wide obstacle. I cringed as I helped her and her bike out of the shrubbery. Scraped and bruised she looked directly at me with her tear filled eyes and said "That was a good experience," as she got on her bike and peddled away.

This experience taught me a lot about life. Specifically, as it relates to our work life, it illustrates some of the attitudes that employers look for in employees.

Firstly, you'll notice that she was doing as much as possible on her own. Employers appreciate independence. Those who decide to do as much as possible on their own require less supervision and are usually more productive. Those who are autonomous are also willing to take calculated risks. They are confident in their ability to get the desired results most of the time. But they also understand that although the consequences may be painful most negatives can be corrected relatively easily.

Secondly, employers look for people who want to learn in negative circumstances. Mistakes have no value if we don't learn from them. However, some people learn only how to blame others. My daughter could have easily said "Dad you should have known that I wasn't ready to drive solo yet." (Without her reprimand I had to rebuke myself.) But she chose to take responsibility for the mistake and move on. She never drove into that hedge again.

Finally, good managers want employees who can recover from a mistake and get right back on the bike and ride off into the sunset. Too many of us become overly concerned of causing another error and choose to avoid trying. We help neither our employers nor ourselves by shying away from responsibility. Unless one determines that more education, skills or knowledge is needed before trying again, it is best to do that as soon as possible.

Unfortunately, many of these attitudes are learned at a young age. But it is never too late to develop a new perspective. The goal of becoming a more desirable employee is worth the effort.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: I was offered a job with a fine company. I told the employer that I would have to give my present employer a 2-week notice upon accepting the new position. The new employer told me that their needs were immediate and, although they would appreciate me giving only a 1-week notice to my present employer, they agreed to a 2-week starting date. During the weekend before I was to start my new job after having already left my former employer, I contracted what I thought was a virus that kept me from starting my job on the first day. When I called my new employer to tell them, they seemed to understand. I called on the second day and told them I was still under the weather and they seemed to reluctantly understand. They asked me if I had seen a physician and I told them that I would try to go that day. On Thursday I called the company and said that I could start the job the following Monday. The company was upset with this and said that the work load was piling up, that they had released the other employee who had been on the job previously, brought in a temp, and that it was imperative that I show up to work on Monday with a doctor's excuse. Come Monday, I realized that I had no note to give the employer, mainly because I didn't feel I needed to visit the doctor, but I took my chances and showed up for work anyway. When I was greeted by the Personnel Manager, she immediately asked for my doctor's note. I told her I never went to the doctor. She told me that they held the position an additional week, as had been agreed upon, and she had had to hire a temp to come in and help out the days that I was not there. They think that, in lieu of this, they may call the temp back in or continue looking for someone to fill this position. They already hired me. How can they do that? E.M.-Fox Lake

A: Dear E.M.,

Technically, although you were hired, you never actually consummated your employment. People do get sick. I have yet to come across a sickness that was timely. I understand your predicament. However, I also understand theirs. If you told them you were to see a doctor, you should have followed through or told them you didn't feel you needed one. One draw back to this untimely illness is that they had a perfect opportunity to bring in that temporary who then showed them what he/she could do. Pick yourself up and don't dwell on this. Who knows, perhaps your former employer would welcome you back. NOTE: Temporary assignments can lead to full-time permanent job placements. It allows for the perfect opportunity to "show them what you can do."
